them without an expression. Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco, and J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City, both of whom were charged with assisting in the escape of James B. McNamara from the scene of his crime at Los Angeles, also received their sentences in silence.
When the court issued a general invitation of any of the state what reasons they had if any, why sentences should not be pronounced Ryan too, remained silent. Steps toward appeals in behalf of all the prisoners to the United States circuit court of appeals already have been taken.
To File Writ of Errors.
Chester H. Krum with other counsel appeared before Judge Anderson late to day to arrange for the filing of writs of errors.
This formality may be done tomorrow. Meantime Mr. Krum said there was no prospect of procuring liberty of the men through super-sedes bonds. All the prisoners are to go to Leavenworth.
What time the special train is to carry them there the United States Marshal Edward Schmidt refused to state, as he has been instructed to keep in absolute secrecy the departure and route of the train. It was understood that no efforts were to be made to take the train out before tomorrow. Less than twenty minutes was required by the court in the work of actually imposing sentences, although for an hour and a half before that time Judge Anderson leaning over his desk invited each prisoner to step up and talk with him as to his degree of guilt. The scene was unusual. The prisoners had been arranged three rows deep each being seated in alphabetical arrangement. In front sat a dozen attorneys for the defense, whose motions for setting aside the verdicts and for arrests of judgments were all overruled. Behind, in the rear of the prisoners, there were several hundred people in the room, but one voice only was heard at a time. That was the judge's voice, or the voice of a prisoner who had stepped forward to plead for mercy.
Judge Talked to Defendants.
Judge Anderson said his reason for wanting to talk to some of the men, was because he believed some evidence might have been brought in the trial which was omitted.
"If there is anyone of you who has anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced he may step forward," said the judge.
For a moment no one said anything or stepped forward. The offer was repeated.
Finally six men arose and stepped forward one by one. The six men were Patrick Farrell, James Cooney, James Coughlin, William Burnhardt, Frank J. Murphy and Hiram Kline. Of these six all but Burnhardt procured liberty through suspended sentences. Burnhardt in pleading his case began:
"I hope God may strike me dead— but here the court interrupted. "Sit down. You know you are guilty."
Burnhardt's sentence later was one year and a day.
"Do you think dynamiting is right?" was asked of each prisoner who pleaded. The answer invariably was "no, your honor."
All Prisoners Entered Denials.
Each prisoner disclaimed any knowledge of the dynamite plots. At this point the crying of a child delayed the proceedings. Just before passing sentence Judge Anderson announced he wanted to read a statement. Before he had proceeded far, the child in the corridor began to cry and the judge paused long enough to order that the door be kept closed. It was 4-year-old George Burnhardt, son of the Cincinnati prisoner, who had been playing in the corridor with Christmas toys. In consequence of his crying about one-third of the prisoners had been sentenced before the doors were opened to allow people to go out.
The court room was more crowded than usual. Among many women present was Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, widow of the former president.
The sentences were read by the court from a slip of paper, the names and the terms of imprisonment being called off rapidly. A few minutes later the court room was cleared of all except the prisoners who with their families were permitted to remain in the federal building until late in the afternoon.
Sang on Way to Jail.
At 3:15 the prisoners, shackled to deputy marshals, with Marshal Schmidt and Superintendent of Police Martin J. Hyland in the lead, stepped out of the federal building and on their march to the Marion county jail, began to sing "On the Banks of the Shannon."
The singing continued with crying women and children following the procession almost until the jail was reached. Every effort by the officials to stop the demonstration caused louder singing.

WILSON CONFERS WITH J. H. LEWIS

Manifests Keen Interest
In Possible Increase of Democratic Senators

ILLINOIS MAY HAVE TWO Leaders From Other States Will Inform Governor of What to Expect.

TALKS WITH REDFIELD

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 30.—President-elect Wilson, manifested today keen interest in the possibility that the present scant majority which the Democrats are calculated to have in the United States senate might be comfortably increased when the legislatures of a number of states convene next month.
Mr. Wilson conferred during the day at the state house with J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, choice of the Democratic primaries in Illinois for United States senator and Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee on the senatorial situation and it is understood that he will be informed in the near future by other Democratic leaders in congress of what may be expected from the legislatures in their respective states.
Mr. Lewis told Mr. Wilson that there was a good chance of getting two Democratic senators from Illinois, informing him that, while the newly elected Progressives held balance of power, he thought there were men public spirited enough among them to support the Democratic choices on the theory that the state of Illinois had by a popular vote put itself on record for a Wilson administration.
Mr. Lewis suggested to the president-elect that it might even be openly understood that men who would give the support of the two senators would be regarded as worthy of proper reward and recognition in the distribution of minority patronage.
The president-elect remarked tonight that he had absolutely no comment to make on this proposal.
That the Philippine situation is recruiting prominent consideration by the president-elect in his preparations to carry out the Democratic platform pledges was indicated by his conference today with Representative William Redfield of Brooklyn. The governor said he had arranged to Mr. Redfield, because the latter had been in the Philippines and knew the conditions there.

TRAMPS BRUTALLY ASSAULT WOMAN

Posses is Scouring Country For Men
Who Seriously Injured Woman
When Refused Lodging.

Kankakee, Ill., Dec. 30.—A posse is scouring the country in the vicinity of Chebanse, near here, for two tramps who brutally attacked Mrs. Walter Feller, wife of a prominent farmer, when they were refused lodging. The men applied for a night's lodging about 8 o'clock this evening while Mr. Feller was at a neighbor's. Mrs. Feller refused to admit them when they attacked her, tearing her clothing from her and injuring her seriously. The men then cut the telephone wires and escaped. Mrs. Feller was unconscious when found by her husband.

CASE WILL SET PRECEDENT

Supreme Court Reviewing Case On Which is Said to Depend Hundreds of Oil Leases.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The enforceability of hundred of gas and oil land leases throughout the country is said to depend upon a case which the supreme court of the United States was to day asked to review. The case is the second one in which the seventh U. S. circuit court of appeals held that "surrender" clause in a gas or oil lease by Susannah Smith, near Martinsville, Ill., was inequitable and unenforceable in equity courts. Gas and oil companies claim that such a clause giving them the right to terminate the lease by the payment of one dollar is essential to the protection of the risky business of developing gas and oil fields. In the case in question the owner of the land is said to have disregarded the first lease containing the surrender clause, and made another to a rival company. The first company was held not to be entitled to an injunction to prevent the second company developing the property.
In West Virginia, Ohio and Louisiana, the leases containing these clauses have been declared forcible in equity but in Oklahoma and Illinois it has been held otherwise.

TAFT CHATS WITH CROWD.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 30.—President Taft enroute from Keywest, to Washington interrupted a game of bridge whist tonight at Florence, S. C., long enough to answer calls of a crowd that had gathered at the station to greet him. Mr. Taft appeared on the rear platform and chatted with the crowd and also introduced Col. George Goethals as "the man who built the Panama canal."

TO CHANGE TREASURY BUSINESS METHODS

IS EXPECTED TO LESSEN INTERFER-ENCE WITH FISCAL OPERATIONS

Will Become Effective February 1
When Accounts of Disbursing Officers Will Be Placed With Treasurer—National Banks May Cash
Disbursing Officers' Checks on That Official.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Secretary MacVeach today ordered a revolutionary change in the business methods of the treasury department in handling the income and expenditures of the federal government which is expected to lessen interference by the treasury with the fiscal operations of the country, make the government deposits in United States depositories more active and inure to the benefit of the public by obviating the payment of exchange on government checks.
Effective Feb. 1, the accounts of the federal disbursing officers will be placed with the treasurer of the United States and all disbursing officers' checks drawn on that official may be cashed by any national bank designated as a United States depository. Banks making such a payment may immediately replenish the specific account from federal customs or internal revenue receipts daily deposited. The banks thus will forward to the sub-treasuries only the excess of receipts over expenditures. If the expenditures are greater than the receipts the sub-treasuries will supply the deficiency. In this manner it is explained much of the government's business will be transacted with the actual use of currency. It will be an extension of the clearing house principle to the government, and the banks will check expenditures against receipts and then make their settlements with the treasury.

All checks in payment of customs and internal revenue receipts which are turned into the sub-treasuries, under the existing system, must be converted into actual money before they can be paid out on the checks of disbursing officers. The new scheme will obviate this cumbersome method of withdrawing money only to pay it out into circulation again. The change, it is stated, will work a decided departure in sub-treasury cities and will have the effect of distributing federal disbursement in a equitable manner all over the country.
One important result will be the avoidance of the necessity of payees of the government including pensioners, paying exchange on government checks.
February 1 was selected as the date for putting the new scheme in operation so that the next payment of pensioners' checks would be made under it.

GOVERNOR ELECT DUNNE IS NOT AT ALL SUPERSTITIOUS

Has No Objection to Being Inaugurated On January Thirtieth—
Mysterious Number Has Had Large
Place in Family History.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Governor-elect Dunne is not superstitious and for that reason he hopes nothing will interfere with the holding of the inaugural ceremonies on January 13th. Differences between the political factions may cause the inauguration to be deferred until after the selection of a speaker of the house.
"There is no reason why I should fear the number 13," said Mr. Dunne. "Mrs. Dunne was born on the thirteenth, we have thirteen children and I served on the bench thirteen years. The proposed date of my inauguration fits nicely with the year—1913—so I say let the ceremonies proceed."

Under the constitution the vote must be canvassed by the legislature in joint session before the inauguration of the state officials. It is feared by some of the politicians that if a temporary speaker is selected for the purpose of canvassing the votes here may be a deadlock and then the temporarily appointed presiding officer would continue to hold the chair.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLS YOUNG GIRL

Grandson of Former Vice-president
Stevenson Discharges Old Rifle,
Which Was Thought to be Unloaded.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 30.—Adlai Stevenson, grandson of former Vice-president A. E. Stevenson, tonight accidentally shot and instantly killed Ruth Merwin, aged 14, at a party at the home of his father, Lewis G. Stevenson. Some of the boys at the party attended military academies and during the evening decided to give some of their drills. They found an old rifle and, as they thought, was not loaded.

During the drill the weapon, while in the hands of Young Stevenson, was discharged, the bullet striking the Merwin child in the forehead, causing instant death.

KILLED BY TURNING ON LIGHT

Danville, Ill., Dec. 30.—Charles Welcome was instantly killed this morning when he tried to turn on an electric light in his coal shed. Boys playing in the alley had thrown a wire which caught on a high voltage service wire overhanging the incandescent circuit wire and touching the latter. When Welcome in grouping for the light came in contact with it, the entire voltage of both wires was grounded through his body which was badly burned.

SOME DEFENDANTS GUILTY OF MURDER

Judge Anderson Makes Statement in Reviewing Dynamite Trial

SHOW APPALLING CRIMES

Declares Court Cannot Be Influenced by Evidence as Men
Are Not Charged With Murder

POINTS OUT ONE BRIGHT SPOT

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., DEC. 30.—Federal Judge Anderson's statement about the trial, in which stated that the evidence shows some of these defendants to be guilty of murder" was read by him from the bench. He reviewed the history of the conspiracy and the evidence introduced at the trial of the dynamiters, cited the fact that in the early period of the strike there were the usual incidents of picketing, slugging and rioting. The campaign of dynamiting began in 1906, extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific and continued until the arrest of the McNamaras and McManigal in April 1911. During this time there were about 100 explosions causing great damage to structures being erected by open shop concerns, culminating in the Los Angeles Times tragedy October 1st, 1910.

Proposed Reign of Terror.
"This system of destruction was not carried on for revenge or in obedience to any other human passion but for the deliberate purpose by a vertible reign of terror, to enforce compliance with the demands of the iron workers upon the open and closed shop question," the court said after reviewing further testimony, continued:

"The evidence shows an appalling list of crimes in addition to those charged in the indictments. These crimes were all committed in the name of organized labor—I will not believe that organized labor approves of such practices. Any organization that approves and adopts the methods of these defendants is an outlaw, and will meet the fate which outlaws have met since civilized society began.

One Injunction Issued.

"The evidence shows that in the early part of this struggle, one court issued an injunction against violence. It is the one bright spot in the dark history of this conspiracy. In recent years we have heard much denunciation of government by injunction; but a consideration of the evidence in this case will convince any impartial person that government by injunction is infinitely better than to be governed by dynamite.
"In fixing the punishment to be meted out to the leaders in these crimes the court must not forget that they can only be punished here for the offenses they have been guilty of committing against the United States. The appalling crimes growing out of this conspiracy, were allowed to be shown in evidence only because they tended to show the community of purpose the concert of mind and action which is an essential ingredient of the crimes charged, and the effect of such evidence was carefully limited to this in the court's instructions to the jury. The court must not now give it any other effect.

Some Guilty of Murder.

"The difference shows some of these defendants to be guilty of murder, but they are not charged here with that crime, this court cannot punish them for it, nor should it be influenced by such consideration in fixing the measure of punishment for the crimes charged.

"The certainty of punishment not its severity is the important consideration in the administration of criminal justice. Such punishment should be meted out as shall warn others that even if they desire to accomplish lawful ends they must not violate the law in the attempt to realize them. Keeping these considerations in view the court every law abiding citizen naturally feels at the crimes which the evidence in this case discloses in addition to those for which the defendants have been found guilty and as near as may be possible, confine the punishment within its proper scope."

CHICAGO MINISTERS ENTER PROTESTS

WANT LIQUOR LAWS OBSERVED ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

Five Hundred Marched Monday To Interview Mayor Harrison and Chief McWeeney—Were Informed
That Monday Was Not the Mayor's
Receiving Day—Jenkins Lloyd
Jones Appointed Special Emissary
For Ministers.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Five hundred ministers who to day marched on the city hall and failed in their effort to obtain the promises of Mayor Harrison and Chief McWeeney that all drinking places would be closed at one o'clock on New Year's morning tonight planned legal action to enforce their demands. A committee was appointed to employ counsel to the enforcement of the closing ordinance in their own hands, and, if necessary, to start impeachment proceedings against the mayor and the chief of police. The ministers were not given an audience by the mayor. They were told he "was not receiving to day." Hoots and shouts of derision followed the announcement.

Called on Mayor and Chief.
Arthur B. Farrell, of the Chicago Law and Order League quieted the disturbance and led them on to the chief's office. Chief McWeeney heard the demands of the ministers and promised he would take the matter under advisement.

After the marchers had left the city hall, Jenkins Lloyd was appointed to see the mayor and determine if his refusal to see the ministers was absolute and final.
According to Charles Fitzmorris, the mayor's secretary, it is not the custom to receive on Monday and some of the ministers thought the mayor might see them at another time before New Year's.

CONTESTS KELLER'S ELECTION

Hardwood Declared Newly Elected
Senator Has Not Resident of State Five Years.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—(Alleged) that Kent E. Keller of Ava, the newly elected Democratic senator in the forty-ninth senatorial district is not eligible because he has not been a resident of the state for five years and of the senatorial district for two years next preceding his election, Samuel E. Hardwood of Carbondale, the defeated Republican candidate today filed with the secretary of state notice of contest of Keller's.

Hardwood alleges that Keller has for the past twelve years resided with his family in St. Louis and has had his business offices there, being secretary of the Pan-American Exploration company. He says in his notice of contest that at the last city election in Ava, held this year, Keller did not know and was unable to ascertain in which ward in Ava he should vote, that he came to Illinois a short time prior to the primaries after he was nominated and did not move his family to the state until about the time he was nominated.

JURORS FAIL TO AGREE IN MRS. BURNHAM'S TRIAL.

After Five Hours Deliberation Judge
Kester Dismissed Them.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—After deliberating five hours the jury in the trial of Mrs. Harriet M. Burnham, charged with the murder of her husband Herbert Burnham, June 11th, 1912, and was discharged. The jury returned into court at 10 o'clock for additional instructions and it was reported that the body was considering a verdict of manslaughter. Two hours later it was reported that the jury was hopelessly deadlocked and that a verdict was unlikely. Shortly before four o'clock the jury reported to Judge Kester that its members were unable to reach a verdict and was discharged.

RYAN MAY DEMAND CASH

Banker's Holding State Funds Showing Concern of Treasurer—Elects Notification.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Whether William J. Ryan Jr., the state treasurer-elect will demand that the state funds be turned over to him in cash or certificates of deposit is causing bankers' who hold the funds some concern.

Recently Ryan notified State Treasurer S. E. Mitchell that he would accept nothing but cash. Then Mitchell sent out notices to all the 125 state banks who have state monies that the coin and not certificates must be forthcoming.
Immediately, it is said, the bankers protested. The daily balance of the state is about $4,000,000. Of this amount more than $3,000,000 is in Chicago institutions. Country and city banks alike said it would inconvenience them greatly were they compelled to comply with Mr. Ryan's demands. Mitchell was here to day consulting bankers but transferring the money.

CARED FOR THOUSANDS OF DELINQUENTS

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Forty-four thousand four hundred and seven unfortunate and delinquent children were in the care of the Chicago juvenile court during 1913, according to the annual report filed here today. Only 402 cases were dismissed. Permanent discharges from parole and institutions were granted 1,707 children.

TURKEY PROPOSES POWERS' MEDIATION

Offers Solution in Dilomatically Guarded Terms
at Peace Conference

GETS NEW INSTRUCTIONS

Part of Telegram Was Unde-cipherable and Will Have to be Repeated

ALLIES WILL BRING CRISIS

London, Dec. 30.—After a fortnight of sparring and feinting, Turkey has finally shown her hand in the peace conference. Mediation by the great powers is the Ottoman scheme for emerging from the war with the best face for the nation and for the plenipotentiaries which the situation will permit. The Turkish delegates proposed this solution in diplomatic guarded terms at today's session. The meeting was brief and more strained than any which preceded it and the Turkish tactics were characteristic.

Receive Fresh Instructions.

The delegation from the porte Richard Pasha, announced, but part of the telegram was undecipherable and must be repeated from Constantinople for translation. Then Richard Pasha came to the point up to which the Ottomans had been leading since the beginning in the opinion of the representatives.

The boundary between Bulgaria was an exception; that was a matter, he said, for direct settlement between the two governments.

Then the Turkish delegates attempted to discuss the questions at issue informally but the allies insisted that they should put their propositions in writing in which, after a conference, the Turks said they were not prepared to do.

To Bring Affairs to Crisis.

The allies propose to bring affairs to a crisis by a statement in the nature of an ultimatum at the next session, on Wednesday.

The allies express the desire to waste no more time in waiting for telegraphic consultations, real or pretended, between Constantinople and the Turkish delegates in London, and will meet at an early hour Wednesday to decide upon their policy.

Mediation has two advantages from the Turkish view point. First the tendency of such an arrangement always is in the direction of a compromise. In the second place mediation would save the Turkish government's prestige in the eyes of the people by making it appear that Turkey concedes the sacrifices, which she inevitably must take to the pressure of all Europe, instead of the dictation of the heretofore despised Balkan states.

The first consideration from the standpoint of the allies is opposed to their interests. Such a solution as mediation offers would be of further advantage to them in that it would not be considered as arbitral.

Designed to Make Step Necessary.

Turkish design in presenting counter proposals which left an enormous gulf between them and allies' proposals was to create a situation in which mediation would appear justifiable even necessary. Their argument is that never since the beginning of the world has a mediator, entrusted with a difficult problem by conflicting parties given a verdict entirely favorable to one side, without compensation to the other. Therefore, it would be easier to recoup part of their losses through mediation than by dealing directly with their adversaries, and the capital argument remains that whatever Turkey would be forced to concede, her musulman population, particularly the semi-barbarous tribes of Arabia and Anatolia, would swallow the bitter pill with fewer grimaces, if convinced it was administered by a coalition of the whole of Europe instead of by the vassal states of Bulgaria and Serbia. In the camp of the allies the proposal for mediation has been received with varying degrees of dissatisfaction. All are agreed that mediation would be possible of acceptance only if the authority entrusted to the mediators was such limits that it would be impossible to deprive the victors of conquests rightfully gained—that it must be mediation taken into account the present status of the belligerents, not the ante-bellum status, and, above all, that it must be mediation and not arbitration.

HAS NO CONNECTION WITH TREASURY

Washington, Dec. 30.—The treasury department today issued a notice to the public that a concern known as "the United States treasury gold mining company" said to be sending out literature from Chicago has no connection with the treasury, and that the use of the name was not authorized by the treasury department. The use of the words "United States treasury" in connection with the company's title, Assistant Secretary Allen said has been reported to the post office. Officials were not prepared to state whether this could be prevented.

MRS. GUGGENHEIM ON STAND
In Case to Have Her Divorce Set Aside Says She Was an Undesirable to Former Husband's Family.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Grace Brown Guggenheim, former wife of William Guggenheim, the millionaire youngest son of Meyer Guggenheim of New York, took the stand in her attempt to have the divorce she obtained set aside. During two hours that she was testifying part of which time she was under cross examination by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mr. Guggenheim she told that she was an undesirable acquisition to the Guggenheim family. Mrs. Guggenheim said that she was urged to obtain the divorce by members of the Guggenheim family and their attorneys, and that after she obtained the divorce had been handed a check for $150,000 as alimony she learned that her Attorney Louis Werner, had been paid by the Guggenheims.

"Why did you take the check for $150,000?" demanded Mr. Untermyer.

"It was handed to me. If it were handed to you I think you would take it," Replied Mrs. Guggenheim with a smile.

Mrs. Guggenheim denied that she had demanded $250,000 to release her former husband. She also said that she had no wish to re-enter the Guggenheim family but wished her divorce regularized. She said that Daniel Guggenheim, a brother of her former husband had urged her to get the divorce and suggested North Dakota as a place to bring the suit. She said that she took the name of Herbert after her divorce because she was asked by Daniel Guggenheim, her former husband and Mr. Untermyer.

VIGUS AND HARTNETT INDICTED
Grand Jury Finds True Bill Against Men Charged With Hold-Up of Alton Train.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—John Hartnett and Elmer Vigus, just one week after the Chicago & Alton "Hummer" was held up near Iles Junction and attempted made to blow the safe in the express car which contained approximately $70,000, were indicted by the grand jury and charged with the crime. The men were arrested in this city by local authorities Tuesday of last week, the day following the hold up, and since that time they have been identified by members of the train crew and Frank Ayers, the express messenger on the train the night of the attempted robbery.

The case of the two men will, in all probability, be set for trial some time during the week commencing Monday, January 6th.

Joe Vigus, a brother of the man indicted charged with assisting in the hold up of the "Hummer" was indicted on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was at first suspected of having been implicated in the holdup.

Joe Vigus, indicted for carrying concealed weapons is the man who was held in this city in connection with the recent Franklin bank robbery.

◆ ACCIDENT AND OTHERWISE ◆

Pinned Beneath Machine.—Dr. E. Main, a prominent veterinarian at Carthage, was instantly killed when an automobile in which he was riding struck the curb in front of the McMillan hotel. Dr. Main was pinned beneath the machine and his body was crushed.

Sparks in Bird's Nest Starts Fire.—A chimney spark which lit in a bird's nest under the eaves of the residence of John Edwards, 644 East South street, Galesburg, started a fire which endangered the whole house. The roof got well ablaze but the fire department arrived quickly and succeeded in putting it out. Damage to the extent of $25 was done to the roof.

Was Despondent; Killed Himself.—Dissatisfied with her lot and despondent over family troubles, Miss Grace Goodnow, an employee of the Marne Beauty Parlor, of 66 North Prairie street, committed suicide by taking strychnine. For a time, too, she kept company with a young man, who not long ago, transferred his affections to some other young lady, and it is believed that this unsuccessful love affair had much to do with her despair.

Murder and Suicide.—George Griffith, 40, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide at her home in Rock Island. They had quarrelled frequently.

Illinois Man Ends it All.—H. O. Minnis, of Taylorville, Ill., a former member of the Illinois legislature, who came to Texas in the hope of regaining his health, was found in his room at a hotel at Catalla, Texas, today with his throat cut. He was brought to San Antonio for surgical attention, but died early today. Despondency because of continued ill health is believed to have caused Mr. Minnis to take his own life.

Horse Kicks Farmer's Wife.—Mrs. Frank Mader, wife of a prosperous farmer living four and one-half miles east of Quincy on the Columbus road is lying at St. Mary's hospital suffering from wounds which may cause her death, the result of being kicked in the head by a fractious horse yesterday morning.

Body Found on Island.—The body of a man believed to be John Longnecker was found on Rondeau Island, near Goiconda. His throat had been cut and there were knife wounds in his breast. It is believed robbery was the motive for the murder, and that the victim was killed in a boat and then placed on the island.

ARREST ALLEGED SAFELOWER.
South Bend, Ind., Dec. 30.—With the arrest of William Milley, alias William Johnson, on a charge of safe-blowing, and the finding of a quantity of nitro-glycerine at the house where he boarded, detectives believe they have uncovered the bigging place of a number of men wanted in several states for thefts and burglaries.

Requisition papers were honored today by Governor Marshall and the prisoner will be returned to Bowling Green, Ohio.

Albert Peverest, in whose home the explosive was found, also is under arrest. His wife is said to have implicated a number of others, in a confession made to the police. One of her assertions was that a physician, the head of a national fraternal order and an attorney, had arranged an alibi for Peverest in case he was arrested in connection with the robbery.

◆ ATTEMPT TO END STRIKE ◆

New York, Dec. 30.—Mediation and arbitration will be attempted in the effort to end the strike of workers in the men's clothing manufacturing trade. Four thousand shops in New York, Brooklyn, Newark and other nearby places and operatives estimated at 73,000 are affected by the strike. Strike leaders predict that concerns in all the large cities will be involved unless the strike is settled soon.

◆ COURT ORDERS FORECLOSURE ◆

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 30.—Federal Judge J. A. Riner to day held for the plaintiff in the case of the Pennsylvania-Wyoming Copper company and its subsidiaries involving about $10,000,000 and many persons throughout the United States who are stockholders in the company. The court ordered foreclosure of trust which had been given the continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank of Chicago in the sum of $2,500,000.

The Last Order for 1912

To day will be your last chance to place a grocery or drug order. Close the old year in good form by ordering what you need for the New Years dinner and what is lacking from your family medicine chest—and be sure the orders come to this store.

The After Dinner Cup will be More Inviting if Roberts' Perfect Coffee is Served.

All of our blends of Coffee are specially selected and FRESH ROASTED. They represent the best values, at their respective prices, that money can buy, and with but a small margin of profit.

We continue to sell the same grades, same blends at only 28c, 33 1-2c, 35c, 37 1-2c 40c and 45c.

GROCERIES

CLEANLINESS AND PURITY
are positively assured in handling all our goods and a visit to this store will prove how absolutely clean and sanitary conditions are here. Our Grocery and Drugs have no "OPEN-STOCKS." We have adopted every known device in handling and stock keeping to insure cleanliness throughout our entire Grocery and Drug list. Every article is in a container or double wrapped package which seals in the contents against air, dust or the contamination of other foods. There is no such thing as an open box, bin or barrel in our entire stock. Groceries or Drugs bought from us are positive in quality as well as in purity. We have but one quality standard—THE BEST—We do not purchase job lots nor odds and ends of stock. We select a certain grade to sell for a certain price and we compel those who supply us to furnish quality that meets our standard absolutely. If it is impossible to secure goods which conform perfectly to our standard, we discontinue handling such grades. Our guarantee protects every customer in the matter of quality, purity and price. If you order 1/2 or 5 pounds or more of any of our grades of coffee we will return the price if our coffee should fail to satisfy you in quality and price. If you buy our own make flavoring extracts you will not only save money but you get nothing but pure extracts of the best fruits unadulterated and uncolored.

DRUGS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT THAT IS PLEASING—In submitting Roberts' Almond Lotion to the people of Jacksonville yesterday for the first time, we were surprised at the big demand and the many pleasing and complimentary remarks received. It proves to us that you want real pharmaceutical elegance and merit in your toilet and drug preparations. Roberts' Almond Lotion is a forerunner of what you may expect from our drug department.

ROBERTS' ALMOND LOTION is non-greasy and is easily rubbed into the skin, opening the pores, therefore invigorating the skin, making it soft and like velvet.

When purchasing a bottle of ROBERTS' ALMOND LOTION you are getting a new kind of healing antiseptic cream which is far superior to many so-called lotions. We personally guarantee this to you and if upon trying this excellent lotion you do not pronounce it refreshing and satisfactory we will willingly refund your money.

If you are affected with rough, tender or chapped skin, come in and let us demonstrate the truth of our claims.

ROBERTS' ALMOND LOTION will be made in our drug department and sold exclusively by us in the city. Large bottles, 25c.

May we have the pleasure of seeing you. Remember, we are putting up a full line of household remedies which you can rely upon for purity, accuracy and results.

HOLDS RAILROADS VIOLATED LAW
United States Circuit Court Decides That Five Roads Combined to Break Sherman Act.

Columbus, O., Dec. 30.—A decision holding that the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Hooking Valley, Toledo & Ohio Central and Kanawha & Michigan railroads have combined to violate the Sherman antitrust law was handed down today by the United States circuit court as a result of a suit brought in the local federal court last June.

The decision it is expected will make a sweeping change in the shipping rates from the West Virginia coal fields and in the methods of transportation. An order is issued by the court makes imperative the sale of over 100,000 acres of the finest coal land in the Kanawha, W. Va., district now owned jointly by Chesapeake & Ohio and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroads and the Sunday Creek Coal company which it was brought out was owned by railroads. The roads were ordered and the trustees are made parties to the suit. The order further states that joint ownership of the Kanawha and Michigan railroad by the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern must be terminated. It was this ownership of the Kanawha and Michigan by the two railroads which brought the suit in the federal court, the other roads being included on the general charge that they formed a monopoly in restraint of the coal carrying trade. Further arguments will be held on January 21st, and 23rd, on technical questions as to how the order of the court is to be carried out.

SIX KILLED IN SNOW SLIDE.
Fernie, B. C., Dec. 30.—Six men were killed and six others injured at the Coal Creek mines of the Crowe Nest Pass Coal company today by a snow slide. All the men were at work in the carpenter shop of the coal company and the avalanche burst upon the building, so quickly that not one escaped death or injury.

ITALIAN MYSTERIOUSLY MURDERED
Milwaukee, Dec. 30.—Another mysterious Italian murder which the police are inclined to connect with the Dominie Leon killing here recently took place here tonight when Carmelo Scino was shot and instantly killed on the sidewalk in front of his home. The murderer escaped.

LA FOLLETTE ADDRESSES CHURCH GATHERING
Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 30.—Physical valuation of all public utilities corporations as the first step toward the control of big business concerns was advocated by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin in his address here tonight before a church organization.

Referring to President-elect Wilson, Senator La Follette declared that while he had not supported him in his candidacy for the presidency he would support him in the senate as long as he advocated progressive legislation.

TWENTY INJURED IN WRECK.
Springfield, Mo., Dec. 30.—Twenty passengers were injured, some seriously when four coaches of St. Louis and San Francisco passenger No. 22 were derailed by a broken rail a few miles north of Memphis, Tenn., today, according to a report received at the local offices of the road. The most seriously injured were in a coach that rolled over an embankment into a small creek.

DONNELLY CHOSEN MANAGER
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 30.—Frank Donnelly of Roberts, Ala., formerly a resident of this city and former manager of the Springfield and Peoria club of the Three Eye League, was chosen tonight at a meeting of the board of directors of the Springfield Three Eye league club as manager for the 1913 season. Other applicants were Fred Kommers and Frank Lofton, both members of the local club.

COUNTERFEIT BILL DISCOVERED
Washington, D.C., Dec. 30.—A dangerous new counterfeit five dollar certificate said to be the most remarkable imitation since the famous "Monroe head" $100 note was suppressed in 1898 has been discovered by the United States secret service which sent warning throughout the country. The notes were found in New York City.

So nearly perfect is this suprious note that officials of the cash room of the treasury declared it was genuine and unswervingly held to their belief that it was a washed note. Herman Moran, assistant chief of the United States secret service detected slight variations from the original, however, and stamped it unqualifiedly as counterfeit.

The imperfections of the note are detectable only with the aid of a glass. Apparently it is printed on two pieces of paper between which silk threads have been distributed. The number of the specimen which reached secret service headquarters is E69421159.

CITY COUNCIL HELD BRIEF MONDAY SESSION.

Mayor Will Ask Gas Company to Cut Out $3 Charge For Meters—Special Election on Water Question Feb. 4.

The city council held a very brief session Monday morning. After the call to order by Mayor Davis the minutes were read and approved. No claims were presented for approval and there were no reports from departments.

Commissioner Knollenberg brought up the question of the Jacksonville Railway and Light company's right to charge $3 for installing a gas meter or requiring a deposit of that sum. He thought that if the company could do this that care should be taken to cut out such authority in any franchise granted. Mayor Davis concurred in this view. Commissioner Newman thought it would be well to compel the company to install money meters and Mayor Davis said it would be hard to make the company do anything while it is operating without a franchise.

Commissioner Knollenberg, with a second by Commissioner Brennan, made a motion that the mayor take the matter of the $3 charge up with the gas company officials with a view to having the practice stopped. Commissioner Engel was in favor of this action and it carried unanimously.

It was announced that as soon as the signed contract is received from the Jacksonville Water company that the council will pass an ordinance calling a special election on the water proposition for Tuesday, Feb. 4. The council then adjourned.

PITTSFIELD HIGH SCHOOL WINS FROM Y. M. C. A. 32 TO 20

Fast Basketball Game is Witnessed in the Capital of Pike County—Local High School Plays Pittsfield January 24.

The Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. basketball team was defeated by the Pittsfield high school, Monday evening, by a score of 32 to 20. The game was played at Pittsfield and was fast and interesting throughout. Pittsfield has always enjoyed a splendid record in athletics and their basketball squad this year appears to be even faster than that of last season. The Pittsfield floor is considerable smaller than the local boys have been used to playing on, which accounts in a measure for the local's defeat. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 8 in favor of Pittsfield. Pittsfield comes to Jacksonville January 24; when they will meet the local high school five.

The following was the lineup:
Pittsfield—Barber and Cannon forwards; Hancock, center; Kelly and Conry, guards.

Y. M. C. A.—Johnson and Frey, forwards; Osborne, center; McCracken and Waterfield, guards.
Officials—Referee, Brewer (Jacksonville); Umpire, Doocy, (Pittsfield.)

REVIEWED WORK OF YEAR.

The Woman's Advisory Board of Grace M. E. church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. E. C. Lambert to review the work of the past year and to confer about plans for 1913. The service of devotion had for a topic: "The church in its permanent strength and continued helpfulness, an outgrowth of God's love, teaching men to love one another and to bear one another's burdens." Reports were given by the chairmen of the various committees were wholly encouraging and the unanimous opinion was that the plan of organization now in effect should be continued for another year. From the statements made by the chairmen of circles it was decided that when the pledge of this year has been completed, that a new pledge of $50 from each circle will be made and this will complete the sum of $10,000 pledged by the women toward the building fund of the new church. The annual meeting of the Pastor's Aid society was announced for the second Tuesday in January when the final reports of the year will be made.

We Announce For This Week A
Splendid Sale of

FURS

Furs are something we positively will not carry over from one season to another. As yet the mercury has not dropped low enough to make a very great demand for furs--so we have decided to drop the prices on our furs down past the zero mark and see if we cannot create a demand. We will not quote prices here. They would be meaningless when apart from the furs. But come to the store--make your choice and we will name you the lowest price you were ever made on a high quality fur.

THIRTY-THREE MEN CONVICTED IN DYNAMITE CASE SENT TO PRISON

entrance to the jail the deputies stepped aside, the handcuffs were removed and the prisoners were checked by Marshal Schmidt. The prisoners marched in alphabetical order, Anderson of Cleveland leading and Young of Boston bringing up the rear.

Not one of the six men whose sentences were suspended by Judge Anderson accompanied the melancholy procession from the scene of the trial to the jail.

At the jail entrance a detail of policemen held back the hundreds of spectators assembled to see the convicted men enter.

As Anderson of Cleveland, the first in the line, passed a moving picture photographer, he smiled and said to his guard:

"He's on the job."

After all had entered the jail door clashed shut behind them and a few minutes later the handcuffs had been removed from the last prisoner.

Burnhardt Laid a Favorite.

George Burnhardt, the 4-year-old son of the prisoner, brought a smile to the faces of many when he left the corridor with a nifty "good-bye" that elicited cheery response from the most downcast of the prisoners. The boy won the friendship of the defendants and their families by the cheerful front he maintained throughout the trial. When his father was sentenced the boy was playing in one of the corridors and making it resound with childish shouts of glee. The prisoners at the request of Ed Smythe of Peoria, Ill., sang "Oh Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight," shortly after the room where they were confined had been cleared of relatives. A few minutes before the defendants left the room, the song was repeated.

Hiram Kline, who was released on suspended sentence, mingled with the friends and families of the convicted men in the corridors. He was crying as he bid his former associates farewell.

Murphy of Detroit, one of the defendants who was released under suspension, said "not because he let me go without punishment, but because I think it is due to him. I want to say that a fairer judge never lived than Judge Anderson. I am absolutely innocent. What I say about Judge Anderson, I say from what I have observed throughout the trial. I wish all the judges of this country, judges of the supreme court, from the federal judges all on down to the judges of the police courts, were like Judge Anderson."

Leniency For Clark Causes Comment

Clark's suspension of punishment after he had pleaded guilty throws an interesting light on Orville E. McManis, another confessed dynamiter. Several days after the trial began and after the district attorney had produced before the jury an ivory handled umbrella upon which was inscribed the initials E. C. Clark pleaded guilty. He said he had left the umbrella at the spot where he blew up a bridge at Dayton, O. He declared Hockin had furnished him the dynamite and President Ryan had pointed out jobs in Cincinnati to be blown up.

McManis already had pleaded guilty to the charges, but he was brought here as a prisoner of Los Angeles county, where he also pleaded guilty. He is to be returned to Los Angeles in connection with other investigations out there. The effect that Clark received a suspended sentence was regarded as significant in possibly presaging leniency toward McManis.

McManis, however, confessed personally to causing 21 explosions scattered from Boston to Los Angeles. All the men who received six year sentences excepting Munsey and Barry of St. Louis, who received four years, and Beum of Minneapolis and Legleiter of Denver, who each received three years, are present or were former members of the iron workers executive board. As such they were accused of appropriating out of the union's funds $1,000 a month for Secretary McNamara to carry on the dynamiting campaign.

The testimony was that part of that money was used in sending Jas. B. McNamara to the Pacific coast to blow up the Los Angeles Times building; that the money was paid to McNamara in checks signed by President Ryan and marked "by order of the executive board" and that Leo M. Rappaport, an attorney for McNamara, after visiting the dynamiter at San Quentin prison, came back to Indianapolis and at McNamara's direction destroyed a small blue check book in which a record of the dynamiting expense was kept.

Two Girls Important Witnesses.

Two little girls gave the chief testimony against Anderson and Smith of Cleveland. They said they were walking along a country road near North Randall, O., one evening when they saw Smith and Anderson carrying a box. It was the same box in which the government charged, they carried the dynamite by which $45,000 damage was done at North Randall that night. One little curly headed girl testified she recognized Anderson "because he had a funny face."

In imposing sentences of one year and one day on six men, Judge Anderson at first said he would give them one year each, but instantly added another day. Under the regulations federal prisoners who receive one year or less may be confined in county jails.

CARNEGIE'S NEW YEAR'S GREETING.

New York, Dec. 30.—Under the title "the world's unsolved enigma," in which he declares that the ruler of every country knows that the greatest blessing for the world at large is international peace, Andrew Carnegie today sent to his friends his greetings for the New Year. In conclusion the greeting said:

"International peace is not a party question in the republic. Democratic president and statesmen equally with Republicans are its zealous companions. I venture the prediction that negotiations soon will be resumed under the most favorable conditions between Britain, France and America—Germany gladly co-operating as before."

"In such hold causes there can be no such word as failure. Sooner or later the killing of men in battle is to banish from civilized lands."

CASTRO SENDS WIRELESS.

New York, Dec. 30.—Refusal permit to me disembark in New York will not surprise me, but in that case the American people will have to cover up the statue of liberty illuminating the world, which is placed in its great port."

Thus reads a wireless despatch which the Herald will print tomorrow from Cipriano Castro, the exiled president of Venezuela, who is on board the steamship Touraine, now nearing this port. The despatch adds that Castro is coming to the United States as a traveler for a short sojourn "with the idea of seeing for myself the great nation of Washington and Jefferson."

MRS. MALONEY ACQUITTED.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Dec. 30.—Mrs. Kate Maloney, who has been on trial for the murder of her husband, Michael Maloney, on August 24 last, was acquitted by a jury tonight. Maloney's body was found at his home with a gun at his side by officers who had been notified of his death by Mrs. Maloney. Her indictment followed. The defendant claims her husband committed suicide.

TRAVELING MEN BANQUET.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Clean sheets long enough to cover a tall traveling man from head to foot, clean hotel rooms and the privilege of voting by mail were demanded in resolutions passed by the National Association of Traveling Men at the annual banquet here tonight. MAYOR DAVIS MADE FIGHT AGAINST UTILITY COMMISSION

Jacksonville Mayor Told City Officials at Convention of Perils That Are Possible—Amendment of Resolution Was Result.

At the convention of officials of cities governed under the commission form of government, held in Springfield Saturday Mayor George W. Davis and a minority of the delegates made a fight against approval of the proposed public utilities commission. As a result of their opposition the resolution passed by the convention was materially amended. The Chicago papers devoted a large amount of space Sunday to reports of the discussion. Mayor Davis in views accorded in large measure with Prof. Bemis, utility expert of the city of Chicago.

The Inter Ocean staff correspondent said in part: More troubles were stirred up for the new Legislature when the nineteen Illinois cities that have adopted the commission form of government, through their representatives here to day, went on record as opposed to any state utilities commission that would be in any way interfere with local home rule. They will present a memorial to that effect to the General Assembly.

Before this action was taken two lively sessions were held, at which sensational speeches were made.

Professor Bemis, the Chicago gas expert whose report coincided with the Seventy Cent Gas league propaganda, sailed into the joint legislative committee that has been investigating the utilities problem. He said the commission of which Senator John Dailey of Peoria is chairman, was a "bunk" commission and should not be taken seriously by any one. He expressed to the convention Mayor Harrison's views on local home rule and contended against legislative interference with municipal problems.

George W. Davis, mayor of Jacksonville, and a minority of the delegates opposed any kind of a state utilities commission. Davis declared that the corporations of the state were behind the movement to create a state board to handle all utilities and thereby take from the cities all the rights they now have.

A compromise was finally effected whereby the convention approves the utilities commission with limited power. By a vote of 18 to 6 the following amendment to the general declaration of principals of the association was adopted.

"Resolved that we are unalterably opposed to the granting by the Legislature to any board or commission the power or authority to interfere with, control or regulate the operation of rates or services of any local public utilities except by invitation of the local authorities."

In reporting the days proceedings the Tribune said: The charge was made openly to day that influences with strong business backing have been behind the investigation made by the public utilities committee authorized by the last Illinois legislature.

Mayor George W. Davis of Jacksonville made the charge before the convention of commissioners from the nineteen cities of Illinois which have adopted the new commission form of government.

He fought to a standstill for a resolution condemning any effort by the legislature to provide for a state public utilities commission with plenary powers.

The original resolutions, which had been offered by Commissioner Willis J. Spaulding of Springfield, were modified so as to place the commission on record as favoring a commission to be used when needed, but protesting strongly against one which could intervene in a rate adjustment or "interfere with, regulate, or control the operation, rates, or services of any local utility except by invitation of the local authorities."

Even this compromise was adopted by a vote of 18 to 6, the half dozen demanding that a fresh commission, to be appointed by the governor, and above any suspicion, must undertake the framing of a law if one is necessary. The compromise amendment was offered by City Attorney Edwin Clifford of Elgin.

Fight By Jacksonville Mayor. The Jacksonville mayor fired this shot:

"There is plenty of argument against any sort of a bill which may be offered by this so-called legislative committee. In a conversation which H. E. Chubbuck, general manager of the McKinley interests in Illinois, had with myself and the Jacksonville commissioners, he said to us, after a squabble between Mr. McKinley's representatives and the Jacksonville authorities: 'You fellows are the whole thing now, but we will get a state commission on you later.'"

Mayor Davis then warned the delegates to look closely behind the existing legislative committee and seek the motive which has prompted the investigation.

Voices Mayor Harrison's Views. Mayor Harrison's views, as commonly accepted, were brought to the conference by Edwin W. Bemis of Chicago, who said, in part:

"I have become firmly convinced that, while there is room for some extension of state regulation of public utilities in Illinois, especially outside of the large cities, a poor law or poor commission would be worse than none. It is best to proceed slowly and not give as great powers to a commission at first if one be created, as has been done in some other states."

"We need great regulation of the natural monopolies of gas, electric light and power, telephones, street and interurban electric lines, private water companies, etc., than we have to day. The right of cities to build and operate local utilities and to bond themselves for the purpose on referendum vote of the people should be greatly extended."

VOCATIONAL TRAINING IS URGED IN THE PHILIPPINES

Chief of Bureau of Insular Affairs Makes Report—Favors Citizenship to Porto Ricans.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Approval of the extension of vocational education in the Philippines and the immediate grant of American citizenship to those Porto Ricans desiring it, constitute the principal features in the annual report of Brig. Gen. Frank McIntyre, Chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs. In this annual report recently made public Gen. McIntyre renews the recommendation for Congressional action looking to the biennial inspection of the insular possessions by a board of visitors made up of representatives of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

Discussing education in the Philippines and the refusal of Congress to extend an appropriation to help in this work, Gen. McIntyre makes no criticism of this attitude on the part of the National Legislature but points out that such financial assistance might "lead to dependence upon this source of revenue and result in complications of a more or less serious character if later this assistance were denied."

"It is estimated," Gen. McIntyre continues, "that probably one third of the children of school age are now being afforded opportunities to acquire at least an elementary education."

As to Porto Rican citizenship, Gen. McIntyre says it is practically the testimony of everyone familiar with conditions on the island territory that the desire for it is the underlying cause of whatever political and social unrest there is on the island. He points out that citizenship has been recommended by the bureau, by successive Presidents and Secretaries of War, besides being promised in political platforms. "It is very much to be hoped," he concludes "that this grant may be legislatively authorized during the current session of Congress."

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN GOTHAM HOTELS

New York, Dec. 30.—Seeing the old year out at the big New York hotels promises to eclipse all previous celebrations, judging from the arrangements completed at all the well known hostleries along Broadway and Fifth avenue. The reservation of tables has been going on for weeks, and every available inch of space is reported taken for tomorrow night's gaieties. Music and cabaret entertainment will enter more largely into the festivities this year than ever before.

HOME FROM TEXAS.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hickman have returned from a number of weeks spent visiting two brothers of Mr. Hickman residing in Texas. While absent they visited Galveston, Whitehouse and Fort Worth. Mr. Hickman says he was treated finely by all whom he met and could ask nothing more than was done for him. Though he was a union veteran and his brothers fought for the lost cause it made no difference in the cordiality of the welcome given him and his wife. The affectionate epithets of "Johnny" and "Yank" were freely exchanged all in good feeling and nothing to took place to mar the pleasure of the trip.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

"Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Alcott, druggist.

SCIENTISTS MEET THIS WEEK.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 30.—Two thousand or more scientists are now representing virtually all of the great institutions of learning on the American continent, assembled in Cleveland today to discuss the progress of science during the past year. They meet under the auspices of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, one of the oldest scientific organizations in the western world. The association embraces about thirty affiliated societies, all of which are to hold meetings during the week. At a dozen different meeting places papers will be read and addresses delivered on subjects in physics, chemistry, mechanical science and engineering, mathematics and astronomy, education, zoology, botany, anthropology and psychology, geology and geography, physiology and experimental medicine, and social and economic science.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE.

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pimples will vanish after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Nothing ever cleansed the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets are the only successful substitute for calomel—they oil the bowels; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does and just as effectively, but action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Try them. Take one nightly for a week. Then look at yourself in the glass and see how you feel. 10c and 25c per box.

TO SELECT GOVERNOR AND SENATOR AT THIS SESSION.

Unusual Duties Confront Members of New Hampshire Legislature.

Concord, N. H., Dec. 30.—When the New Hampshire legislature assembles day after tomorrow the lawmakers will face one of the most puzzling situations in the history of the state. As soon as they have organized for business they will be called upon to select a governor to succeed Governor Robert P. Bass, whose term is about to expire. In the November election none of the candidates for governor polled the majority vote as required under the constitution, and the choice of the governor therefore devolves upon the legislature. In addition to selecting a governor the legislature will name a United States senator to succeed Senator Burnham, whose term will end next March.

Whether Democrats or Republicans will be selected for the two high offices to be filled by the legislature is a matter that cannot be foretold with certainty. The legislature is apparently Republican by a narrow margin. The Progressives, however, claim forty-one of the Republican members, and are pledged to act independently. This gives them the balance of control, and leaves the result in doubt.

The senatorship is the problem in which most interest is manifested. The avowed Republican candidates are former Governor Henry B. Quinn and Rosecrans W. Pillsbury, editor of the Manchester Union. Henry F. Nollis and Clarence E. Carr are the Democratic candidates for the senatorial toga. Governor Robert P. Bass is regarded as a receptive Progressive candidate. Many look for a deadlock over the senatorship.

The problem of the governorship is expected to present fewer difficulties in its solution. In the election of November 5 the Democrats made sweeping gains and all but succeeded in landing their candidate for governor, Samuel D. Felker of Rochester. Mr. Felker had a substantial plurality, but under the constitutional provision requiring a majority of the votes the election was thrown into the legislature. In making their selection the lawmakers will be required to vote for one of the two leading candidates at the election, Felker, Democrat, or Franklin Worcester, Republican. As Felker received the plurality of the votes cast at the election it is believed that many of the Progressives will feel their duty to vote for him. Governor Bass, leader of the Progressive Republicans, has gone on record as favoring Felker over Worcester, the choice of the regular Republicans.

MISSION SERVICES AT CATHOLIC CHURCH CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

Father Charles Delivers Final Sermon and Confers Papal Blessing—Morning Address by Father Ignatius.

With the conferring of the Papal blessing at the Sunday evening services the mission at the Church of Our Savior, which has been in progress for the past two weeks, was brought to a fitting close. At both services Sunday the church was crowded and at the evening service, when hundreds of men held their lighted candles aloft renewed their baptismal vows, just prior to receiving the blessing, presented an imposing spectacle.

The sermon for the morning was delivered by Father Ignatius, who took for his text: "Brethren, I beseech you that you walk worthy of the vocation to which you have been called." Explaining that the two chief commandments of God, that you should love God above all and your neighbor as yourself, might be summed up in the words, "Do your duty," which in turn he said was merely that a person should follow his vocation in life and live up to it. He said that it was not the greatness of the calling that mattered, but the way in which the vocation was lived up to.

Father Ignatius led in the Rosary at the opening of the evening services. The sermon was delivered by Father Charles, who delivered an eloquent address based on the quotation from scriptures: "Labor as a faithful soldier of Jesus Christ." He explained that the work of the past two weeks was merely the beginning and that the men should persevere in their good work, by being a Catholic in their everyday life, in their homes, at their work and wherever they might be, and expressed the hope that should be returned to this city in a year or even two or more he would find all of them following out the teaching and instruction that they had received and the good work that they had begun.

At the conclusion of his sermon he thanked the members of the congregation, the pastor and his assistants for their hearty and sincere co-operation in making the mission a success and finished with a prayer for the congregation, priests and sisters. After the Papal blessing had been given Father Crowe made a few brief and appropriate remarks in which he congratulated the members of his congregation for the way in which they had made the mission and also thanked the missionaries for their work. The services were concluded with the benediction.

TELLS ABOUT WORK IN CHINESE HOSPITAL

Rev. Clyde Darsie Made Interesting Address at Central Christian Church.

Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of the Central Christian church gave an interesting address Sunday night relating to the probable support of a hospital in Lu Chue Fu, China. The lecture was aided by illustrated stereoscopic views of the institution. Heretofore the church has supported the Rev. Herbert H. Shaw in the mission work in that country. Circumstances having prevented the continuance of Mr. Shaw's work, the church desires to discharge its obligations by securing some worthy way and at the same time to aid in foreign mission work.

The hospital at Lu Chue Fu is about the size of Passavant hospital of this city. Because of the few hospitals in that country its work is of wider scope.

Records produced by the Rev. Mr. Darsie showed that during the average year 17,000 persons received treatment and 30,000 were brought there or were supplied with medicine.

The purpose of the lecture was to inform the people of the work proposed by the church which will be taken up later.

HANDICAPPED.

This is the Case With Many Jacksonville People.

Too many Jacksonville citizens are handicapped with bad backs. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause of the kidneys are weak. To eliminate the pains and aches of kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys—thousands testify to their merit. Can you doubt Jacksonville evidence?

Fred I. G. Wason, 309 Woodland place, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I am always glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly as I did in 1909. At that time I suffered from kidney trouble and backache. The pain in my back was severe and when I would stoop over, it was hard for me to straighten. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply from Armstrong's drug store. They gave me permanent relief."

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED BY CHURCH
MEMBERS OF WOODSON PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY HELD INTERESTING PROGRAM.
J. W. Crain Presented Review of Years Gone By—Membership Has Recently Called Rev. J. L. Coleman to Pastorate—Man Took Part in Sunday Program.
The home-coming anniversary exercises at Unity Presbyterian church at Woodson Sunday were well attended and full of interest from beginning to end. The church has recently settled Rev. J. L. Coleman as pastor, he begins his work under favorable conditions and the hope is that he will be a strong factor in the work in that community. The Sunday services observed the forty-first anniversary.
In the morning and at all the meetings the music was a prominent feature and the accompaniment consisting of organ, piano, violin and cornet was excellent. The principal feature of the morning service was the historical sketch by an elderly member, J. W. Crain, and was as follows:
Church History Told.
Unity church was at one time after the reorganization in 1871 was moderately strong being composed of all members of Union church and of several members of Pisgah church.
At that time or shortly after, Rev. R. W. Allen who had been supplying Union church for some time, perhaps two or three years, was installed pastor which office he filled most acceptably until the time of his death which occurred in 1882.
The eldership at the time of the reorganization was Edward Craig, David A. Rannels, John A. Reaugh, Robert Brown and G. W. Craig all of whom excepting the last have been called to their reward.
The deacons were James Craig, Jas. L. Barrow, W. P. Craig, and Wm. Y. Forsythe. They also have been called to their home.
In the fall of 1882 Rev. W. L. Tarbet was called to the pastorate in connection with Pisgah. This relation continued until 1891 when he resigned giving all his time to Pisgah.
At that time the church had been greatly weakened both numerically and financially by deaths and removals, so when Rev. S. A. Glasgow took charge in the fall of 1891 the active membership probably did not exceed 25 and in this weakened condition the membership led on principally by W. P. Craig, then a deacon, afterwards made an elder resolved to move the church building which is just as old as the present organization and which stood out in the country, to its present location. This was accomplished in 1892 at a cost of several hundred dollars which added to the cost of the present site being then the M. E. church building, afterward remodeled into a manse building, made a great undertaking for the little congregation but faith and labor and prayer for God's blessings can surmount mountains. At this time Brother Glasgow was not in the regular ministry, but after a time was ordained and installed pastor. Under his ministry the church was gradually built up, he being good in pastoral work, aided by a genial and a brotherly disposition, guided by a consecrated spirit and above all, the blessings of God being added under his leadership. The various revival meetings were planned and resulted in great good, the membership being encouraged and revived and many added to the church.
But God's ways are not our ways so in the midst of his usefulness, and in the prime of life Rev. Glasgow was not for God took him away. He laid down his life for another in May, 1908. If I am correct, without a moment's warning he was called to his reward. "Be ye also ready for in an hour as ye think not the son of man cometh."
In the fall of the same year Rev. Edwin Harris was called to the church and was pastor till last August when he resigned to take charge of the Palmyra church.
Three Early Members.
Regarding the old Union from which the present organization grew principally, there are only three members of this church now who were members at the reorganization, Miss Maggie Rannels, Miss Bell Craig and the writer, all were re-elected in the old church from infancy.
Two of the sons of one of the early ministers of the old church, T. E. and J. H. Spilman, spent their ministerial lives in southern Illinois. At least one, and possibly two sons of one of the elders mentioned became at least Sunday school missionaries and perhaps ministers, Wm. and Geo. Reaugh. They removed many years ago to Nebraska and were sons of Elder John Reaugh.
This sketch would hardly be complete did I not mention our friend and brother, the Rev. Geo. White, who has so lately gone out from our midst and into missionary work in the great northwest.
In closing I am to mention one other, the man under God to whom this church owes more than to any other outside the ministry was I believe W. P. Craig, while others have done much and well, none other put into it the means, the time, the prayer he put into it.
Such is briefly, something of the organization and work of Unity church. But who can tell of the inward and spiritual influence which has gone out from it to bless the world, eternity alone can tell.
May God in His infinite mercy bless us all and may he use faithful stewards in his vineyard.
New Members Received.
After this came the reception of members and James Devore and family united by letter from Asbury M. E. church and were received most cordially by the pastor and church.

The communion service followed and in this Rev. A. B. Morey, D. D., of this city assisted and the ceremony was truly impressive and quickened to all present.
Afternoon.
A large audience assembled in the afternoon and heard some excellent music and then followed remarks by W. G. Russell on the topic, "What has the church been worth to me?"
Of his remarks and those that followed a short outline is given. I was early dedicated to the service of God by pious parents who endeavored to rear me in the right way. I owe my all to the church. What would the country be without it? I truly thank God for our Christian land for it is a grand country where all have such grand opportunities. Let us all pray that it may become more righteous and better obey the precepts of the Bible. Let us be thankful for a land whose religion is that of Christ.
Wm. McCormick of Jacksonville spoke next. Many recollections crowd upon me as I sit here today and think of the past. I want to express my love for the church for it was the spiritual home of my father and I love it dearly. I was present when the old church was started and it has ever been an incentive to me to do right and avoid the wrong. In the church I was baptized and here has been my religious home and I regard the church as the greatest thing that has happened in my life and whenever I have not lived as I should it has called me back to the right way. I hope you that are active today will so live that future generations may look on you as I look on the fathers who have gone before. May God bless you.
S. W. Nichols spoke next.
Wm. Colton followed. I joined this church twenty-five years ago. Then prominent names were Brown, Barrows, McCormick and others. Death and removal have caused heavy losses. We moved the church here twenty-one years ago and had faith that God would bless us in the work. We came to a very hard time when we were weak and discouraged and Brother Glasgow did a noble work here. We had been standing a great deal on our dignity but finally decided to have a meeting after the Methodist fashion with an old time revival and we had thirty-eight additions. We had to get a tent two years later when we had a union meeting of both churches in the town.
The fathers and mothers came along with the children into the fold and it was a blessed occasion. The reason children are no better now is much due to the parents. My father took me to Sunday school himself and knew that I went and I never got away from that influence. Train the children to attend church and Sunday school and they will not forget it when they grow up.
Work of the Sunday School.
Wm. Nicol, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke. He said he had not been here a long time and he well remembered the Sunday school in his native Scotland. He paid a fitting tribute to W. P. Craig and Rev. S. A. Glasgow and said he was here because of them.
One of the most touching features of the session was the remarks of Aunt Maggie Rannels. She told of the log house in which she first went to church and Sunday school and of the saints who were at the head of the work in those early days. She contrasted the conditions then and now and spoke most feelingly and was heard with close attention.
S. J. Baxter said he had not been a member very long as his membership had been elsewhere. He was acquainted with many of the church and expressed love, loyalty and devotion to the cause.
Miss Susan Russell favored the audience with a solo admirably rendered and entitled, "The End of the Way," and then came the address of Rev. J. L. Coleman on "What Shall We Expect of the Church in the Future?"
He told what was his ideal regarding the work of the church; that it should not only be a place of worship but also should be a social center, attracting the young and spreading a good influence all about. He greatly emphasized the importance of the work and what is demanded of the church if it will do its duty in attracting people who should belong to it.
Evening.
After music a fine address of What Shall We Expect of the Sunday School by Wm. Nicol, was enjoyed. Then came more music and an address by Wm. Russell on "What Shall We Expect of the Christian Endeavor?" More music ended the very profitable exercises.
California Woman Seriously Alarmed
"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing fits and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by all dealers.
FAMILY REUNION.
At the home of William Fanning on Richards street a happy family reunion is now being enjoyed. Geo. W. Fanning and family of Laramie, North Dakota; Mrs. Henry and son of Blanchard, North Dakota; Mrs. Anna Gibson and two children of Alton are there. G. W. Fanning is a son and the other two ladies mentioned are daughter of Ms. and Mrs. William Fanning and a happy time indeed is being enjoyed by the participants in the gathering.
FUNERAL NOTICE.
The funeral services of Edward J. Ferry will take place this morning at 9 o'clock from the Church of Our Savior. Interment in Calvary cemetery.

ROODHOUSE NEWLYWEDS GIVEN CHARIVARI BY BAND MEMBERS
Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Battershell Taken Around Town in Decorated Carriage—Groom Makes Address.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Battershell who were married at their home in Roodhouse Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. W. L. Harms, pastor of the Roodhouse First Baptist church, were given a merry ride around the town Monday night in a gaily decorated carriage.
Mr. Battershell is a member of the Rollins concert band of Roodhouse and when he went to band practice Monday night the members of the band put him in a gaily decorated carriage, drove to his residence and putting his wife in the carriage with him, they started a procession around the town, the band leading, followed by the carriage, which was in turn followed by a large crowd of young people. After parading the streets for about thirty minutes they went to one of the principal streets of the town where Mr. Battershell was forced to make a speech, after which he and his bride were allowed to return home.
Both of the young people have a large circle of friends and are highly respected. The groom is proprietor of a grocery store at Roodhouse and they will reside at Roodhouse.
Dr. Wm. Sadler, author of "The Cause and Cure of Colds," says that common colds should be taken seriously, especially when they "hang on." Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a reliable household medicine for coughs and colds, equally effective for children and for grown persons. Take it when you feel a cold coming on. It will avert danger of serious results and cure quickly. No harmful drugs. City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.

STOPS ITCHING SCALP OVER NIGHT.
Guaranteed by Coover & Shreve to Stop Falling Hair and Dandruff.
Itching scalp keeps you scratching and feeling miserable all the time. Wash your hair tonight with soap and water, rub on a goodly quantity of PARISIAN Sage and the distressing itchiness will be gone in the morning.
PARISIAN Sage is a pure, refreshing and invigorating hair dressing. Besides putting an end to scalp itching, dandruff and falling hair it nourishes the hair roots and preserves the color of the hair, and puts a splendid radiance into faded and unattractive hair.
It should be used by every member of the family to keep the scalp free from dandruff germs and prevent baldness. Large bottle 50c at Coover & Shreve's and druggists everywhere.
TRIAL OF CALLAHAN MURDER CASES
Winchester, Ky., Dec. 30.—The first of the cases growing out of the assassination of former Sheriff Ed. Callahan, the Breathitt county feud leader, is to be called for trial here this week before Judge James M. Benton of the Clark circuit court. There are fifteen defendants and each has applied for a separate trial. It is expected that Ansbury McIntosh, who is accused of being the ringleader in the plot to kill Callahan, will be the first one tried. Judge Benton has issued a warning that any attempt to bribe or intimidate witnesses will be followed by an immediate indictment.
KELOGG TO ADDRESS BAR MEETING
Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 30.—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, president of the American Bar association and former "trust buster," is here to deliver the annual address before the convention of the Oklahoma State Bar association, which met today for a two days session. The convention will conclude tomorrow night with a banquet at which Judge Stillwell H. Russell of Ardmore will preside.
COUGHING AT NIGHT.
One bad cough can keep the whole family awake at night. Phil Disorbeau, Schaffer, Mich., says: "I could not sleep on account of a bad cough, and I was very weak. I used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and soon the cough left and I slept soundly all night." City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.
MONTANA CITIES WANT LAW CHANGED
Bozeman, Mont., Dec. 30.—A movement to secure the repeal or modification of the state law limiting the bonded indebtedness of municipalities was launched here today at a conference of mayors of the leading cities of Montana. The claim is made that the limitation causes the cities to issue warrants upon which they are required to pay a much higher rate of interest.
WAS PRESENT AT RELIEF OF LUCKNOW

PRODUCTION OF LUMBER.
Preliminary Report For 1911 Issued By the Census Bureau—Makes Public Interesting Facts.
Washington, Dec. 30.—A preliminary statement of the output of lumber, lath and shingles in the United States during the calendar years of 1911, 1910, 1909, 1908 was issued today by Census Director E. Dana Durand. It was prepared under the direction of William M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufactures, by Jasper E. Wheelchel. The data were collected in cooperation with the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, and form one of a series of annual reports regarding the lumber and timber industries.
The reported production of lumber in the United States during the calendar year 1911 by 28,107 mills was 37,003,207 M. feet board measure, as against 40,018,282 M. feet board measure reported by 31,934 mills in 1910; 44,509,761 M. feet reported by 48,112 mills in 1909, and 33,224,369 M. feet reported by 31,231 mills in 1908. These figures for 4 years covered by the showing are substantially comparable, with the exception of those for the year 1909. This information covering this year was collected by special agents of the Census Office in connection with the regular Quinquennial Census of Manufactures, and hence covered, theoretically, every lumber producing establishment which was in operation during the whole or any part of that year. The data for 1911, 1910, and 1908 were gathered by correspondence, and while including the cut of practically all of the larger or commercial plants for these three years, do not cover the operations of many of the neighborhood or custom mills. It should be pointed out, furthermore, that the totals for 1911 and 1910 do not include the output of any mill which reported a product of less than 50 M. feet during these years. Returns for about 4,500 mills of this character were secured in both 1911 and 1910, but omitted from the tabulations. The decreases in 1911 as compared with 1910 of about 4,000 mills and 3 billion feet board measure of lumber were doubtless due in part to delay of about 2 months in mailing the schedule cards to the manufacturers in 1912.
Leading States and Principal Centers.
While the industry of lumber manufacture is widely distributed throughout the United States, a production during the calendar year 1911 having been reported from every state but one, namely: North Dakota—it is interesting to note that nearly 36 per cent of the total cut was reported from 5 states of Washington, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oregon, and North Carolina, ranking in the order named. Furthermore, it will be observed that 2 of these 5 states are located on the Pacific Coast and 3 in the south, which regions have in recent years become the principal centers of lumber production in the United States, their combined output in 1911 forming 68 per cent of the total cut for that year.
Soft and Hardwoods.
The reported cut of softwood lumber in 1911 was 23,902,388 M. feet board measure or 78.1 per cent of the production from all woods, while that of hardwood lumber amounted to 8,100,819 M. feet board measure, or 21.9 per cent. The slightly large proportion of the total production supplied by softwoods during 1911 as compared with the figures for the preceding year is a logical result of the drift in the lumber industry to regions which are chiefly coniferous or softwood.
The five leading species cut in 1911 were yellow pine, Douglas fir, white pine, oak, and hemlock, ranking in order named, the aggregate output from these woods being 24,835,285 M. feet or 72.5 per cent of the total production from all species. Yellow pine alone supplied 12,896,706 M. feet board measure, or 34.9 per cent of the total, while oak, the leading hardwood, contributed 2,998,444 M. feet, or 8.4 per cent.
CROUPY COUGHS AND WHEEZY COLDS.
The quickest simplest way to rid the children of dangerous croupy coughs and wheezy stuffy colds is to give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It gives almost instant relief and stops a cough promptly. It soothes and heals. Contains no opiates. City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.
A PLEASANT COMPANY.
Sunday Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Frost, at their pleasant home on North Fayette street most happily entertained a number of friends at dinner. There were present Mr. and Mrs. John Nolley and children, Mrs. J. Emmerson and children, Miss Mattie Murray of this vicinity; Robert Hayes and wife of Manchester, and John Ash and wife. The dinner served was a fine affair for all know what to expect at that home and the hours were passed most agreeably by all present.
PHI DELTA THETAS MEET.
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 30.—The Phi Delta Theta, Greek letter fraternity began their biennial general convention in Chicago today, with headquarters at the Hotel LaSalle. Several hundred delegates are in attendance and an elaborate program has been prepared for their entertainment during the week. Phi Delta Theta was founded at Miami University in 1848 and with one exception it is the largest of the Greek letter societies in point of membership. Among the prominent men included among its members are the late President Benjamin Harrison, ex-Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, former Secretary of State John Foster, and William Allen White, the Kansas editor.
SPECIAL SERVICE.
There will be a special service held at Union Baptist church New Year's eve.
An interesting program will be given followed by a social hour and refreshments.
Every member of the church is invited to be present. All friends are cordially invited.

STOCK QUOTATIONS TURN DOWNWARD

READING, UNION PACIFIC AND STEEL DEPRESSED A POINT.

Drain Halted Before End of First
Hour and Prices Worked Upward
But Based Off Shortly Before
Close.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Dec. 30.—Quotations of stocks turned downward rather sharply for a time during the early trading today on a continuance of the bear selling which affected prices on Saturday. Traders had few facts to work on in the way of new developments and although they favored the short side of the market the downward movement little breadth. Selling was concentrated largely on the three leading issues—
Reading, Union Pacific and Steel—each of which was depressed a point, but losses among most of the other prominent stocks were confined to factions. Before the end of the first hour the drain was halted and prices gradually worked upward until shortly before the close when the list eased off in sympathy with a break in international pump. Both the common and preferred fell seven points.

There was some evidence of scattered liquidation among minor industrial and high priced investment stocks. American Express sold down to 160, the lowest price for twelve years. The copper stocks were strengthened by the announcement of large sales of the metal. The principal selling agencies were said to have adhered to the price of 17½ cents, which has been quoted for some time. General Electric and Westinghouse were strong. Despite expectations of tight money at the close of the year call loans were easier today than at the end of last week. Call money opened at six per cent and although 7 per cent was quoted later the rate fell off sharply before the end of the day.
Renewals were made at 7 per cent as compared with 12 per cent on Friday.

MORTUARY

Arbogast.
Funeral services for William Arbogast were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Taylor on Duolin avenue in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church. The services were attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends and the members of the cigar makers' union, of which the deceased was affiliated, attended in a body. Music was furnished by a trio composed of J. Philip Read, William Moore and Rev. Mr. Darsie and the flowers, which were many and beautiful, were cared for by friends.

Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were: Jacob Roversheimer, M. C. Armstrong, T. J. Riley, Chris Henze, Fred Putoff and James Ward, all members of the cigar makers' union.

Herget.

The remains of Carl Herget, who passed away at the Jacksonville State hospital Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock were sent to Chandlerville Monday morning at 7:40 o'clock via the C. P. & St. L., where services were held and interment made.

Millsdale.

The remains of Mrs. Mary Millsdale arrived in the city Monday morning via the C. P. & St. L. from Peoria accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hackman, Mrs. Tiddins and Mr. Johnson. They were taken to the Jacksonville cemetery where interment was made in the family lot, the commitment services being in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church. The flowers were cared for by friends.

MATRIMONIAL

Ornellas-Scroggins.

The marriage of Frank Ornellas and Miss Virginia Scroggins of Roodhouse, took place Christmas eve at Carrollton. The bride resided at Roodhouse and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Ornellas of Murrayville, at which place the young people will make their home.

Sanders-Carter.

Nelson Sanders and Miss Jessie Carter were recently married at the Mt. Emory church parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Russell. James Hamilton acted as best man and Miss Reece as bridesmaid. After a brief wedding tour, they will reside on a farm.

Alexander-LaTeer.

The marriage of Charles Alexander of Champaign and Miss Mary LaTeer will take place New Year's day at the home of the bride's parents in Paxton, Ill. The bride is well known in Jacksonville where she attended the Woman's college from which institution she graduated two years ago. The wedding march will be played by Miss Nell Smith of Beards-town, a college chum of Miss LaTeer.

JOHN PANKHURST DIES.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—John Pankhurst, uncle of Miss Christabel and Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, and brother-in-law of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragist leaders, died at his home here today. Mr. Pankhurst was 86 years old and his death was due to old age.

Mr. Pankhurst was born in Manchester, England, the home of the suffragist members of his family. He came to this city last May from Danville, Ill., where he had resided for 14 years. Before, he had lived in Canada, where he at one time published a newspaper. He was a brother of the late Dr. Charles Pankhurst, husband of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

GREETINGS FROM FOREIGN POWERS.

Washington, Dec. 30.—New Year Greetings were received at the White House today from the sovereigns of Italy and Germany. King Victor Emmanuel of Italy sent to President Taft the following message:

"Many good wishes to you and your country for a Happy New Year." The message from Emperor William of Germany said:

"At the close of the year, I express to you and to the American people my sincerest good wishes for the coming year."

DROWNED WHILE SKATING.

MELEE AT MERRITT

RESULTS IN TWO ARRESTS

John Peters and Brother Albert Make Attack on Samuel Snow in Railroad Station—Assaults Each Fined $19 and Costs at Winchester.

As the result of a melee in the Burlington railroad station at Merritt, shortly before noon Sunday, Joseph Peters and Albert Peters, sons of Newton Peters, were arraigned before Squire John Collins at Winchester, Monday and pleaded guilty for disturbing the peace and were each fined $19.00 and costs. They had made an attack on Samuel Snow, manager of the grain elevator at Merritt, Joe Peters striking him on the back of the head with a monkey wrench.

The whole affair started Friday in Merritt where a shooting match was being held, which was attended by a good sized crowd. When the noon hour came Mr. Snow went to the elevator to eat his dinner and Newton Peters also went there for a like purpose according to the story. Peters told Snow to clean off the table so that they could serve their meal on it. Snow replied "Do it yourself". At this moment Peters began to throw the things about and he was ordered out by Snow. As Peters went out he picked up a piece of 2x4 and dared Snow to come out. Snow went out and succeeded in getting the piece of timber, after a lively scrimmage, neither man being hurt in the struggle.

Joseph and Albert Peters, son of Newton Peters found an opportunity to get vengeance on Snow, while the latter was in Merritt station Sunday waiting for the north bound passenger train on the Burlington, which arrives shortly before 12 o'clock. Snow was standing by the stove and aside from some ladies, the two Peters boys were among those in the station. As Snow began to leave the building, it said, Joe Peters stepped up behind him and struck him on the back of the head with a monkey wrench, which he had concealed beneath his clothes. The blow stunned Snow who fell to his knees. At the same Albert Peters began to help his brother. Snow was so weak that could not offer resistance. About the same moment Willie Hitt, Jr., appeared on the scene and another man or two succeeded in quelling the trouble. Snow regained consciousness before Peters boys had left the station, but they however soon disappeared.

After the fight, Gene Carpenter, the station agent notified the Burlington officials at Beards-town of the affair and they sent the company's detective down on passenger train No. 48 which arrives at 2 o'clock. As a result of the investigation, Sheriff Conitas of Winchester was notified. He went out to Merritt about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon and put Joe and Albert Peters under arrest, and took them back to Winchester.

The men were taken before Squire John Collins Monday morning where they answered the charge of disturbing the peace in a railroad station. They pleaded guilty and were each fined $19.00 and costs. No warrants were sworn out by Mr. Snow. The affair caused no little excitement in Merritt and disturbed the otherwise quietude of the village on Sunday.

POSTPONE SELECTION OF CANDIDATE

Progressives Will Not Choose Man For Speaker Until Next Week.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Progressive members-elect of the state legislature today at a meeting here decided to postpone the selection of their candidate for speaker until next week. A caucus will be held in Springfield next Tuesday evening at which time a candidate probably will be named.

Medill McCormick caused the postponement by declaring that a hurried selection of a candidate would make it appear that the new party was more keen for jobs than for legislation.

Frank J. Snite and Emil N. Zolla of Chicago and Fayette S. Monroe of Highland Park are candidates for the position.

These three changes in house rules were recommended:

A majority rule so that it will not require two-thirds of the members to call a bill from a committee.

A committee on committees and an executive committee such as exists in the senate.

The right of five members to demand a roll call either before or after a viva voce vote.

WITH THE SICK.

Mrs. Harry Cobb of Springfield who came down to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Packard, has been ill ever since her arrival. Yesterday she was sitting up and expects to be able to return to her home soon.

J. A. Paschall of West North St. is among the sick, suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

B. R. Upham is ill at his home with laryngitis.

William Van Lewis of Springfield is expected in the city tonight to attend the annual dinner of the Gallaudet club, he being one of the few out of town members.

RESOLUTIONS ON REID'S DEATH

New York, Dec. 30.—At the meeting today of the representatives of the newspapers of Greater New York, resolutions were read on the death of Whitelaw Reid, sending sympathy to the family, and commenting at length on the excellent public service of the late ambassador.

"In every task that engaged his mind from the beginning of his career and throughout his life, and in the high posts of the public service to which he was called and where he won such distinction, Whitelaw Reid displayed abilities which commanded the respect of his fellowmen, and qualities of mind and heart that won their esteem."

A committee of thirty was appointed to attend funeral services for Reid to be held here next Saturday.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Marshall Miller entertained the members of the Business Men's Bible class and their wives and the Housekeeper's class and their husbands of Westminster church at their home Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller of Longwood, Miss., who are spending the Christmas holidays here. Mrs. Miller was the organizer of the Men's Bible class and was teacher of that organization until she moved from the city. Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Davis and those teachers in the Sunday school who were there when Mrs. Miller resided here. The evening was very pleasantly spent with social conversation and music and during the hours delicious refreshments were served.

The annual reunion and Christmas dinner of Mrs. H. B. Johnson's children was held Sunday at her residence, 152 Caldwell street. An elaborate four course turkey dinner was served after which an interesting program of songs and recitations was given. The house was very prettily decorated in Christmas colors and a beautifully decorated arch was weighted with a present for each of the guests. Orville Crum acted as Santa Claus. Among those present were: E. E. Murry and family of Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Murry, M. M. Crum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crum, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McFadden and Ol Dunlap and family, all of Litterberry, Mr. Martin and children, Mrs. Henderson and daughter, Carrie and Talmage Crum.

A pleasant gathering took place Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Megginson of Woodson, in honor of their son Cecil, who expects to return to his studies in Eureka college today. The evening was spent in a most delightful manner by the use of games and with music and during the hours light refreshments were served.

Among those present were Misses Della Crain, Nellie Seymour, Ione and Meda Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. George Theis, George and Charles Newman, Ernest Stranberg and Bert Fitzsimmons.

One of the most pleasing social functions of the closing year was the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bellatti and son, Walter Bellatti, at the Peacock Inn Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Moriarty of St. Louis. Mrs. Moriarty being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bellatti. Twenty-five couples were present and during the time an elaborate two course luncheon was served, the tables being prettily decorated with carnations. Favor dances were enjoyed, with five couples at a time on the floor. The favors were especially pretty and this is the first dance of its kind to be held in the city. Music was furnished by Mrs. Fred Randall's orchestra. In every way the occasion was one of keen pleasure.

The members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church of Woodson enjoyed a social time Monday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Colton. Various amusements helped to pass away the hours, music being a feature and some splendid refreshments were served.

Arthur Heranasale of New York city, Chicago & Alton maintainer, is repairing the tower at Roodhouse. Daniel Fernandes, of this city, assistant repair signal man is helping him.

W. E. Nichols, night operator for the Burlington expects to go to Lowder today. He will be succeeded in office by William Bandy, Dwight Kastrup will take first trick operator and E. Kitzer will be second.

Frank Barnes of Decatur, signal foreman of the Wabash is repairing the tower at the Wabash junction. He expects to go to Ills today to repair the interlocker at that place. Howard Denny, night towerman at the Wabash has resigned and will be employed at the Illinois Steel Bridge company. He will be succeeded by John R. Carter of Elkin.

William Hemline, third trick operator of the Alton, who has been sick for some time is slowly improving. His place is being filled by T. Anthony of Murrayville.

INDIANAPOLIS COURT LENIENT

Wickersham Gives Out Statement Regarding Sentences of Convicted Labor Officials.

Washington, Dec. 30.—Attorney General Wickersham declared that in his opinion the federal court at Indianapolis had been extremely lenient in imposing sentences on the labor officials convicted in the dynamite conspiracy. This statement the attorney general emphasized was made without intention to criticize Judge Anderson.

The conviction at Indianapolis, the attorney general said constituted one of the greatest accomplishments in the history of the American courts. They proved, he added that officers and members of no organization, however, could break the laws of the country. The result of this trial and the recent indictment at New York of President Mellin of the New Haven and Hartford railroad and President Chamberlain and Chairman Smithers of the Grand Trunk for the alleged violation of the anti-trust law proved, Mr. Wickersham declared that the laws of the United States are enforced with impartiality against capital and labor rich and poor alike.

MISS IRENE STRAIGHT WEDS MR. PAUL BRECKON

Ceremony Took Place at Residence of Bride's Parents, Dr. J. W. Miller Officiating.

A pretty home wedding took place Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Straight, 1224 South Main street, when their daughter, Miss Marjorie Irene, became the bride of Mr. Paul Breckon, Dr. J. W. Miller officiating.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, green and white being used in the parlor and in the dining room and living room Christmas colors prevailed.

Miss Ruth Taylor acted as maid of honor and Mr. Fred Hopper was best man. Preceding the ceremony Miss Agnes Rogers sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me," Miss Katherine Rogers being pianist. The bridal party entered while the wedding march from Lohengrin was being played. The ceremony used was that of the Methodist Episcopal church and the plighting of the troth was impressive.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white satin, with panther effect made of lace ornamented with orange blossoms. Miss Taylor was dressed in a gown of flowered pink messaline, draped with white silk marquisette, and Miss Agnes Rogers wore a beautiful pink crepe de chene, with over dress of pink silk marquisette.

Both young people have always made Jacksonville their home, where they are held in much favor by a wide circle of friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Straight and a graduate of the high school with the class of 1912. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Breckon and graduated from the high school in 1909. Both are members of Grace M. E. church.

Following the ceremony elaborate refreshments were served. They were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. The young people left the city this morning over the Alton for Chicago and after a brief honeymoon will reside at 811 West North street, where they will carry with them the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

PARCELS POST LAW SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

Inauguration of System Will Mark
Important Epoch in Postal Service.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The inauguration of the parcels post plan in the United States Wednesday next, Jan. 1, 1913, will mark one of the most important epochs in the development of the American postal service. The last previous step of importance was taken when the rural free delivery system was put into effect fifteen years ago. The introduction of parcels post system has been agitated for ten years without material progress when rural free delivery became a fact. Since then the demand for the introduction of a parcels post system in the United States became so urgent that congress finally, notwithstanding the most strenuous opposition from certain interested quarters, yielded to the wishes of the people and enacted parcels post law.

The framing of the law was not an easy matter, as the whole scheme was in the nature of an experiment upon a tremendous scale. It is true, the framers of the law had for their guidance the laws and regulations of a number foreign countries where the parcels post has been in successful operation for many years, but the conditions of the parcels postal service in the United States are so radically different from those of the postal service in other countries that it was not an easy matter to adopt the laws to American conditions and requirements.

At last the law was drafted, submitted to congress and passed and Jan. 1, 1913, was fixed as the date for its going into effect. The many radical changes in the postal service necessitated by the requirements of the parcels post system imposed a tremendous burden of work upon the postal authorities and during the last three months several of the departments worked practically day and night to complete the preparations for the inauguration of the new system.

An entirely new series of stamps for the exclusive use of the parcels post service had to be designed, engraved, printed and distributed; new scales, with a capacity of eleven pounds, to meet the requirements of the new weight limit, had to be contracted for, manufactured and sent to the various postoffices in the country; maps showing the zones into which the country has been divided for the purpose of fixing a graduated distance rate, and books containing the various regulations and rules governing the new branch of the postal service had to be printed and distributed among the thousands of postoffices throughout the country. In addition to all this special provisions as to space, means of handling the parcels post, etc., had to be made at all larger offices, so as to have everything in readiness when the law goes into effect next Wednesday.

The postal authorities have given the assurance that the preparations are now practically completed, but they realize that owing to the newness of the system and the lack of previous experience as to its operations, it may develop at first many defects and shortcomings which will have to be gradually corrected. The public is expected to be patient and to give the postal department reasonable time to perfect the working of the plan in all its details.

The importance of the new service can scarcely be adequately estimated at the present time. It contemplates the transportation and delivery by the postal service of the United States of parcels containing matter of the fourth class, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight and six feet in circumference from any point reached by the present postal service to any point reached by that service. The parcels post service of the government extends far beyond the limited sphere of the various express companies, over more than one million miles of rural routes and 435,000 miles of rail, boat and star routes, embracing about 60,000 postoffices and 285,000 employees connected with the postal service. The rates of transportation are a great deal cheaper than the corresponding rates of the express companies, which means an enormous saving to shippers, aside from the greater facilities offered to them.

Under the new law everything will be mailable that is mailable now as fourth class matter, with the addition of thousands of articles of a perishable nature, etc., which heretofore were not mailable at all. Only liquor of an alcoholic nature, poisons, explosives, inflammable articles, infernal machines, obscene matter, pistols or revolvers, live animals or plants or any substance which emits a bad odor and disease germs cannot be accepted for delivery within a 50 mile radius from the mailing point.

HEAD OF MOUNTED

POLICE TO RETIRE.
Ottawa, Dec. 28.—After more than forty years of faithful and efficient work in the service of the dominion, Lieut. Col. Frederick White, C. M. G., will retire next Tuesday from the post of commander general of the royal northwest mounted police. Few men in the Canadian civil service are better known than Lieut. Col. White and fewer still have rendered more distinguished services to their country. Born in England 65 years ago, Lieut. Col. White came to Canada as a young man and after a short time spent in the services of the Grand Trunk railway he was appointed to a clerkship in the department of justice. By 1876 he had risen to the position of chief clerk.

1912 WAS HARD ON FISTIC CHAMPIONS

TWO TITLE HOLDERS LOSE LAURELS TO YOUNGER MEN

Another Has Been Kicked Out of the Ring by an Indignant Public and Still Another Has Shown Such Signs of Weakness That he is Marked For Defeat the Next Time He Attempts to Defend His Title

(By Jas. J. Corbett, Former Heavy-weight Champion of the World)

The year 1912 was harsh in its treatment of fistic champions. Two title holders were deprived of hard-earned laurels by younger and more vigorous opponents, one has been practically kicked out of the game by an indignant public, while still another has shown such marked signs of deterioration that wisecracks have him marked for defeat the next time he enters the ring in defense of his title.

Abe Attel, who for years ruled the feather-weight roost, was the first to get the hook. Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, put the Indian sign on the veteran last February. While not knocking Attel out Kilbane so decisively outclassed his opponent that a decision in his favor was the only ruling the referee could possibly make.

In the passing of Attel the ring lost one of the greatest artists that ever figured at the head of any division. He was an ideal piece of fighting machinery, with a punch to help along the clever stuff of which he was a master. Abe was a smaller edition of the Tommy Ryan-Joe Gans type of boxer, and as such his withdrawal from activity is a distinct loss to the ring.

Attel's successor, Kilbane, has not risked his prestige in a long contest since winning the title. He has participated in a few limited round matches, but with inferior men as a rule. In his New York bouts with Dundee and O'Keefe, Johnny did not cover himself with glory, although not forced to extend to the limit to win the popular verdicts. Local critics expected too much from the boy who lowered the great Attel's colors and when Kilbane failed to dispose of the sturdy Dundee and the shifty O'Keefe within the limit they branded the Clevelander as a "lucky" champion. With all respect due to said critics, Kilbane is a great fighter and outshines his rivals in the 122 pound division. I believe he will experience no great trouble to drive the fact home when he boxes Johnny Dundee twenty rounds at Los Angeles next April, the latter at the present time being recognized as the most formidable of all the challengers for the title.

The heavy-weight situation is a most peculiar one. This has been brought about by the enforced retirement of Jack Johnson. The probability is Johnson will never again be seen in the ring. Certainly not in this country. No American promoter would have the cheek to try to force this objectionable character upon the public.

The barring of a champion pugilist from competition creates a state of affairs heretofore unknown in the history of the ring. Time will bring about the new situation and through the medium of elimination contests a champion worthy of the great honor will no doubt be eventually developed.

While the exclusion of Johnson from participation in the ring is pleasing to all who have the interests of the sport at heart the fight fans of the country have other causes for congratulation. The marked improvement in the ranks of the white heavies during the past twelve months is most gratifying, and indicates that the time is not far off when a white man will again be in possession of the coveted title of champion. From mere "prospects" a few months ago several heavyweights have developed to the stage where they are now reckoned as champion material, notably Palzer and McCarty, whose meeting next Wednesday is regarded as the most important heavy-weight match since the Jeffries-Johnson affair.

McCarty's defeat of Flynn was a victory for the younger element and though the Pueblo man could hardly be figured a real contender for the honors he was considered as a sort of standard by which the abilities of the more youthful aspirants could be measured. Luther surprised the talent in that engagement and as confession is said to be good for the conscience I'll add that I was one of the bunch who was "surprised." By a victory the younger demonstrator he is a wonderfully improved boxer and qualified for battle with the best of the heavies regardless of color. A comparison of the easy manner in which he handled Flynn and the failure of Johnson to stop the ex-fireman last Fourth of July is greatly in the kid's favor, and if McCarty beats Palzer on New Year's day many will be ready to proclaim him the coming champion heavy-weight of the world. My own opinion, if it may be inserted here, is that Palzer will win the battle.

The light-weight title also changed hands during the year. Willie Ritchie, a comparatively new-comer, forced Ad Wolgast, conqueror of the great Battling Nelson, to lower his colors last Thanksgiving Day. While a few supporters of the ex-champion maintain that the verdict of "winner on a foul" was unwarranted by what actually happened the fact remains that the referee is the best judge of how far Wolgast transgressed against the rules, and it is a poor sport who will attempt to begrudge Ritchie the credit due for his splendid performance.

As a rule the downfall of a champion is regarded with sincere regret by the rank and file of sporting men, but in Wolgast's case, I am sorry to say, there was little evidence of sorrow manifested in the comments of the critics or by fight followers generally. For some reason Ad never enjoyed the popularity of Nelson, Gans, Erne, Lavigne and others who preceded him at the head of the division. So far as the public is concerned this opinion of the little Michigander was moulded no doubt by the sporting writers of the country whose antipathy towards him was due to the methods employed by Manager Tom Jones in "protecting" the interests of his protegee.

Nevertheless Ad was a great little fighter. "Fighter" best describes him. He was never a clever boxer and won and maintained his place at the top by sheer ability to assimilate punishment and "outlast" his opponents. In that respect Ad was a second Battling Nelson and might possibly have reigned a few more years (he is only 24 years of age), had the operation for appendicitis not seriously impaired his vitality.

The passing of the title into the hands of Willie Ritchie marks the resumption of rule of the clever boxer in the light-weight ranks. Since Nelson won from the late Joe Gans the "slugger" has dominated the division but with Ritchie at the head of the scientific boxer comes into his own. Ritchie's success will also mark the "raising" of the light-weight limit to 135 pounds, which will permit the skillful McFarland and Britton to compete for the honors. With Ritchie, McFarland and Britton, and Freddy Welsh in reserve, to safeguard the title there would appear to be little danger of the championship escaping from the clutches of the "scientific" brigade for a long time to come.

Johnny Coulon, present bantam-weight champion, is the lad whose proud title is thought to be in jeopardy. Judging by the calibre of John's recent exhibitions in New York the fear is apparently well-founded. Kid Williams, the Baltimore whirlwind, outpointed the champion at Madison Square Garden last September and it was only the "no decision" restriction that saved the "champ's" reputation.

It is not only here in the east that Coulon will encounter opposition of a strenuous nature. Out California way there is a youngster named Eddie Campi who has won the admiration of the fans by the skillful manner he has cleaned up the good little men of the western country. Promoters are now negotiating with Kid Williams and if terms are sufficiently attractive the Baltimore boy will shortly journey to the coast after Eddie's scalp. The winner will then be matched with Coulon for the title. So no matter how the Williams-Campi scrap terminates the outlook for Johnny is not a cheerful one. But then youth must be served and Coulon has had his fling.

In the middle-weight division the question of "who's who" is largely a matter of conjecture. Early in the year with Klaus, McGorty and Gibbons going along nicely the sports perked up with the hope that the final adjustment of the championship was near at hand. Klaus, however, withdrew from the picture in a hunt for easier game in the wilds of France, and Gibbons and McGorty when finally matched failed to show anything approaching championship form as measured by the Ketchel standard. Billy Papke's attempt to "come back" met with success in France, but in my opinion the standard of pugilistic excellence in that country is far below that of the United States. Therefore Billy's standing at the present time is largely a matter of guesswork. His last starts in the east before going abroad did not suggest a return of the form that once enabled him to outlast Stanley Ketchel. And I doubt very much if Papke could make 158 pounds and be in condition to fight, which would mean to eliminate the Keweenaw man from the race for the American title.

Summing up the middle-weight situation we find it practically unchanged from one year ago, with McGorty, Klaus, Dillon and Gibbons the leaders. The latter can do better than he showed with McGorty at Madison Square Garden early in the month, and will yet prove an important factor in the chase for the title, or I am greatly mistaken.

Let us hope the year 1913 will be more prolific in the production of classy middle-weight boxers and that before another twelve months have passed the championship question will be solved and a worthy leader established at the head of the division.

FAMILY REUNION.

Mrs. E. L. Snyder held a family reunion at her home, 1040 South East street, Christmas day and a very delightful time was reported. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hagel and sons, Leo and Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vassel, Miss Clara Strasser, Miss Edna Ellis, Sister Genevieve, Mrs. Konrad, and Geo. Strasser, all of Springfield, Mr. Albert Strasser, Mrs. E. Conboy and daughter, Miss Lucille and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Snyder and son, John K., all of this city.

P-P. SHOW TAKING SHAPE.

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—The directors of the Panama-Pacific International exposition today opened bids for construction of machinery hall, which it is claimed will be the largest exhibit palace ever built. The structure will have a floor area of more than eight acres and will have a length equal to several ordinary city blocks. Great columns, 60 feet in height and six feet in diameter, will face the buildings on all sides. Surmounting the columns will be allegorical figures representing epochs in mechanical history. It is proposed to break ground for the building next Wednesday, when a program of exercises will be carried out.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

President Harker returned from Peoria Saturday, where he had been attending the meeting of the State Teachers' association. On Friday evening he took part in a discussion on the "Religious Life of the College."

Miss Kidder left Friday for northern Minnesota, where she will give a series of readings. Her first appearance will be at Chatfield.

The librarian, Miss Eleanor Thompson, is spending a part of her vacation in St. Louis.

The library is just in receipt of another consignment of new books.

School will open for registration all departments on Tuesday, Jan. 7. Arrangements can be made at the office any time for special work.

Special attention is called to two changes of dates in the artists' course. Nina Dimitreff, the Russian prima donna, will appear Jan. 20 instead of Jan. 13. This change of dates was made at the request of the management, because of the great success she has been having in Baltimore and Philadelphia. The date of Dr. Edw. A. Steiner has been changed from March 27 to March 15, owing to an error made by the bureau. Patrons will please bear these changes in mind. This course offers special opportunities to students who enroll for the second term. Free admission to the entertainments in the artists' course is given to all those who enroll after the Christmas holidays.

A number of applications for students from a distance have been received for college after the Christmas holidays.

RETIREMENT OF

GEN. MCCLERLAND

Distinguished Soldier was Born in This City Sixty-four Years Ago.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Brig. Gen. Edward J. McClelland, famous as an Indian fighter, closed his active career in the army today. Tomorrow he will reach his 64th birthday anniversary and will be placed on the retired list in accordance with the law. Few of the present day officers of the United States army are more widely known than Gen. McClelland. He was born in Jacksonville, Ill., the son of Dr. John A. McClelland, one of the famous union commanders in the civil war. After graduating from West Point in 1870 he was appointed a second lieutenant of the Second cavalry and has been identified with the cavalry arm of the service ever since. When less than two years in the service he received his baptism of fire in a battle with the Indians at Pryor Creek in 1872. Several years later he participated in the rescue of the remnant of Custer's command, and in 1877, he assisted in the capture of Chief Joseph and his band of Nez Perces Indians in the Bear Paw mountains.

For his distinguished services in the pursuit of the Nez Perces he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant and later was awarded the congressional medal of honor. Gen. McClelland saw active service in Cuba and Porto Rico during the war with Spain and later held an important command in the Philippines. In the war between Russia and Japan he was one of the United States attaches with the Japanese army in the Manchurian campaign.

A SUGGESTION.

Regarding a Gasoline Motor for the Fire Department in This City and Figures Regarding It.

The matter of a gasoline truck for the fire department of this city has been discussed and several advantages are claimed for it.

In the first place the one vehicle is at once a ladder wagon, hose cart and bearer of chemical engine.

In case of a long run, or any kind of a run it could have the fire engine hitched on behind and take it right along to the fire. It could be started at a moment's notice and would need no firing up of any kind.

It could be run on a straight go without turning corners at the rate of 35 miles an hour making a great saving of time in case a fire were remote from the department.

It would be used infrequently and consequently would last a long time as it is very durably made.

The following comparison of cost is made by a man who claims to know the facts:

It would save each year
The hire of two men at $60 a month each $1440
The cost of feeding two teams, shoeing, etc., $60 a month. 720
Interest on the cost of two teams, say 6 per cent on $800 48

A truck would cost, say $5000.
Interest yearly $300
Maintenance, say $10 a month 120
Depreciation yearly, say..... 300

Total $720
Savings claimed annually $1480
These estimates are from persons who should know what they are talking about and are probably not far from correct. Of course the city is not now in position to buy a truck. It is also possible that the item of $300 for depreciation is too large, but there will be some repairs that will make it not far from correct.

It has been suggested that it would be a gracious act for some of our wealthy citizens to loan the city the money or make it a present of the truck as it would be such a great additional safeguard to residences remote from the department.

At any rate the suggestion is worth considering and the trucks are used in so many cities that they are no longer an experiment.

Mrs. J. N. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Petrie and son William were visitors in the city from Meritt yesterday.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Danduff, Fallin Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

CENSUS FACTS ARE GIVEN ABOUT SLAUGHTERED ANIMALS

Figures Show That Country's Meat Bill Runs in to Enormous Sum.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—A bulletin summarizing the data collected for domestic animals sold or slaughtered in the United States for 1909 has just been issued by Director Durand of the bureau of the census, department of commerce and labor. It was prepared under the supervision of John Lee Coultas, expert special agent for agriculture.

The value of all domestic animals sold during 1909 was $1,562,937,000, and that of animals slaughtered on the farm $270,239,000, making a total of $1,833,176,000. To the total value of animals sold, cattle (including calves) contributed $710,015,000 or 45.4 per cent; horses, mules, asses, and burros together $306,457,000, or 19.6 per cent; swine $463,011,000, or 29.6 per cent; and sheep and goats $33,535,000, or 5.3 per cent. The number of cattle and sheep slaughtered on farms is equal to but a very small fraction of the number sold, but in 1909 the number of swine slaughtered on farms was more than two-fifths the number sold.

The value of domestic animals sold as reported for 1909 ($1,562,937,000) is not at all comparable with the value of animals sold as reported at the Twelfth Census ($722,913,000) for the reason that the inquiry at the Thirteenth census related to all animals sold from the farm, while that at the Twelfth census related only to the sale of animals which had been raised on the farm reporting.

A very considerable number of the animals sold during any given year are animals previously purchased by the farmers, often during the same year. The practice of buying cattle and swine and sheep to fatten for market is very common among farmers in some sections. Consequently the gross sales of domestic animals include much duplication. On the other hand, if the sales of animals not raised on the farm reporting are excluded, any additional value which such animals may acquire between the time of purchase and the time of sale is omitted from the statistics. Finally, it should be noted that the value of animals sold or slaughtered, no matter how determined, by no means represents the true product of the stock-raising industry. An animal, such as a horse or a cow, for example, which is raised by a farmer and retained indefinitely for draft or dairy purposes is just as much a product of agriculture as one sold or slaughtered.

Divisions and States.

The table shows, by geographic divisions, the combined value of all domestic animals sold or slaughtered on farms in 1909. Of the total value of animals sold or slaughtered the west north central division reported 39 per cent, the east north central 23.1 per cent, and the west south central 9.9 per cent, these three divisions together reporting nearly three-fourths of the total. With respect to the value of domestic animals slaughtered on farms, the east north central division ranked first, followed by the west north central and the south Atlantic.

In every geographic division except the east north central the value of cattle and calves sold in 1909 exceeded that of any other class of animals, but in the east north central division the value of swine sold was greater than that of cattle and calves. In seven of the nine divisions the combined value of horses, mules, asses and burros sold was next to that of cattle, but in the west north central division the value of swine sold, and in the mountain division the value of sheep sold was greater than that of any other class except cattle.

Value of all domestic animals sold or slaughtered on farms in 1909.

Division.	Total.	Sold.	Slaughtered.
United States	$1,833,176,487	$1,562,936,694	$270,238,793
New England	30,416,780	24,287,381	6,129,399
Middle Atlantic	89,563,068	62,359,683	27,203,385
East North Central	422,925,855	366,849,902	56,075,953
West North Central	715,336,435	664,809,849	50,526,586
South Atlantic	102,508,492	56,917,658	45,591,034
East South Central	129,996,105	91,782,197	38,213,908
West South Central	181,003,205	149,019,393	31,983,812
Mountain	100,115,107	93,035,953	7,079,154
Pacific	61,310,240	53,874,678	7,435,562

Marked differences appear among the geographic divisions with respect to the ratio between the number of animals—particularly swine—sold and the number slaughtered on the farm. In the leading hog raising sections, the east and west north central divisions, the number sold in 1909 was several times greater than the number slaughtered on the farm. In the middle Atlantic, south Atlantic, and east south central divisions the number sold was less than the number slaughtered.

Cattle and Calves.

In the case of cattle and calves the average value of animals sold in 1909 was greater than that of animals slaughtered on the farm in every geographic division (except that in the Pacific division the value of calves was the same in both cases), while in the case of swine the opposite was true. It should be noted that the wide variations in average value for asses and burros sold is due to the fact that in some sections the sales include many high priced breeding jacks, while in others they represent chiefly pack burros.

Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, in order named, ranked highest among the states in 1909 in the gross value of domestic animals sold, each reporting more than $100,000,000. Texas reported the sale of the largest number of cattle (excluding calves), Iowa ranking second, but New York ranked first in the number of calves sold, with Wisconsin second. While Iowa reported the sale of more horses than any other state, Missouri ranked first in the combined number of horses, mules, and asses and burros sold, the number of mules sold by Missouri farmers being nearly twice as great as the number sold by the farmers of any other state. Iowa ranked first with respect to number of swine sold, and Missouri second. Montana and Ohio ranked first and second, respectively, in sales of sheep.

NEWS FORECAST FOR WEEK

Washington, Dec. 28.—President Taft's return from Panama will mark the resumption of activities in official circles after the customary Christmas recess. The presidential party are due to arrive in Washington Tuesday afternoon. The next day the president and Mrs. Taft will hold their last New Year's reception at the white house. The program established by the custom of many years will be followed, the function beginning at 11 o'clock in the forenoon with the reception of the members of the cabinet and diplomatic corps and continuing through the list of the judiciary, senators and representatives, officers of the army and navy and so on until the "plain people" are reached.

Both houses of congress will convene Thursday. In the senate the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court will be resumed Friday, when Judge Archbald is expected to take the stand in his own defense.

Hearings before the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries in the so-called North Atlantic shipping pool are scheduled to begin Thursday. The purpose of the investigation is to determine whether the commerce between the United States and the South American countries is under the control of a steamship trust.

Beginning Monday, the interstate commerce commission will hold a series of hearings in Washington on the general subject of transit privileges accorded by the railroads to shippers. The closing of the ranks dinner of the Republicans, which was first spoken of for Dec. 14, has been definitely fixed for next Saturday night at the Waldorf Astoria in New York. President Taft is expected to attend together with many other leaders of the Republican party to show that the party is a vigorous political unit despite the results of the November election.

The first few days of the new year will see the inauguration of governors and meeting of legislatures in many of the states. On New Year's day new governors will take office in New York, Michigan, Iowa, Massachusetts, Maine and a number of other states.

Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, now aid for inspection at the navy department, will relieve Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus of the command of the Atlantic fleet Saturday, and will take the fleet at once to southern waters for a series of maneuvers.

The first day of the year, as usual, will see a number of important changes in the government service, the putting into effect the new laws and regulations and the inauguration of new policies by great industrial and financial corporations. By far the most important event of its kind will be the inauguration of the parcels post service, which will become an accomplished fact next Wednesday after many years of agitation and discussion.

What is probably the broadest pension policy yet adopted by an American corporation for the benefit of its employees will be put into effect the first of the year by the Bell interests, embracing the American Telephone and Telegraph company, the Western Union Telegraph company and their affiliated concerns. A fund of $10,000,000 has been set aside to provide pensions for sick and accident benefits and life insurance for the 175,000 employees of the companies. Besides employees the new plan will include their families and dependents.

The centenary of the birth of Sir Isaac Pitman, the inventor of the accepted system of shorthand now in use throughout a large part of the world, will be commemorated Saturday with dinners and meetings in London, New York and many other leading cities, at which speeches will be made by many eminent educators and business men. Sir Isaac Pitman was born in the town of Trover, bridge, England, Jan. 4, 1813. The system of shorthand of which he was the author is employed today in reporting the proceedings of every legislative body and every law court in which the English language is spoken. It has been adapted to twenty different languages.

Girl Sleeps Many Hours After Being Vaccinated.—Grace, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Odell, of Sterling, has been sleeping for 86 hours despite all efforts to awaken her. Physicians believe vaccination to be the cause of her long slumber.

Utilities Company May Establish Big Plant.—Steps have been taken by the Northern Utilities company, owners of the local electric and gas properties, to establish at Belvidere a big power plant intended to furnish power for a number of surrounding cities. The deal has not gone through as yet, but is likely to materialize in the not distant future. The company is backed by millions and has been buying up properties in various directions.

Record Baby Born.—Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, of Jewett street, Elgin, are the proud parents of a 14-pound daughter.

Rival to McKinley System Is Rumored.—A Taylorville newspaper prints the following: Latest developments in the merging of the numerous electric plants of Illinois by the Central Illinois Public Service company indicate that the company will eventually operate an electric interurban system, rivaling if not excelling the McKinley system. Construction work, including heavy rails and most modern equipment known in railroad building is already under way by the company. On last Saturday the company paid out $10,000 in cash for right of ways and is daily adding to this list. Taylorville, Pana, Nokomis and other central Illinois towns are to be connected, it is reported.

White Slave Victims Rescued.—Margaret Sult and Lillian Cammine, each 19, of Meyersburg, Ind., who are said to have been lured to Chicago by white slave agents, and then sent to Danville, were found by the police and returned to their homes.

Boys' Tip Needle Eaten in Goose.—Miss Margaret Bux, a telephone operator of Belleville, while dining on baked goose, felt a pain in her throat. She coughed so violently that her mother, Mrs. William Jenks, sent a hurry call for a doctor. Before the physician arrived, however, Miss Bux had succeeded in taking from her throat the cause of irritation, a large needle. How the needle came to be in the goose, Mrs. Jenks, who cooked the goose, cannot understand. The needle must have been in the bird's thigh while it was living, she believes. Miss Bux's throat was so severely cut she will not be able to work for several days.

Top the Market.—Illinois took the hog honors at Western markets at East St. Louis. Sixty porkers from Cade & Lightfoot of Murrayville precinct, weighing an average of 277 pounds, sold at the East St. Louis National Stock Yards for $7.70 per cwt., an advance over Tuesday's prices and the usual margin above the top at other markets.

Use Vacuum Cleaners to Purify Milk.—Cows furnishing cream to big cities soon may be scoured with vacuum cleaners daily, thus removing any suspicion of dust that might fall into the pail while being milked. The vacuum cleaner can get at the hide as no other method can and, as the dairymen are constantly alert for any new ideas that will raise the standard of cleanliness, the suction process of removing dirt is not improbable in the near future.

Such is the gist of a statement made yesterday by Dr. L. M. Powers, city health commissioner of Los Angeles.

Gambling Furniture Is Burned.—Sheriff Mulconery complied with an order of the circuit court at Belleville when he burned in the public square gambling paraphernalia valued at $800. The furniture was taken in recent raids, and when the cases were called for trial the property was ordered destroyed.

Husband and Wife Die.—But seventeen and a half hours separated the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. William Neville, who resided in the vicinity of Rochelle for many years, living on a farm six miles west of Flageator. Mr. Neville passed away Christmas morning at 8 o'clock and his wife followed him in three days. Both died from pneumonia from which they had been suffering for the past week.

Buttons With a History.—G. W. Potts of Marietta has now in his possession a pair of solid silver cuff buttons with a history. Mr. Potts got the buttons from his grandfather, who got them from his great-grandfather. When Mr. Potts' grandfather came into possession of the buttons he was but 20 years of age. If he were living he would be 121 years of age. As near as they can figure it out, the buttons are about 300 years old and have been across the sea and back three different times. They are now in the sixth generation. They are a square button and have the initial of their first owner, which is "I. P." which stands for Isaac Potts. They are highly valued by their present owner for their age and history.

CHEERFUL NEWS

For Feeble Old People.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and effectually than in youth, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

A grand niece of Alexander Hamilton over eighty years of age once remarked: "Vinol is a god-send to old people. Thanks to Vinol I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I have ever used."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble, old people, and create strength we will return your money. Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

JURY FINDS UNION LABOR OFFICIALS GUILTY

will then be in order. Judge Anderson may ask the prisoners individually or groups whether they have any reasons to give why judgment should not be imposed on them. A wide discretion rests with the court as to the amount of punishment. Under the convictions the court may dismiss any prisoner or impose a money fine or sentence all or any of the men to terms in a federal prison not exceeding 39 and one-half years. All the men were convicted on all charges. These were one charge of conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States carrying a maximum imprisonment of two years and twenty-five charges to transport explosives illegally, carrying a maximum imprisonment of eighteen months. The penalties are cumulative thus making a possible total imprisonment for any one prisoner of 39 1-2 years. The charges against each defendant are embraced in fifty-two counts in the indictment. After the sentences are imposed it is the duty of the United States marshal to execute the judgments. Prisoners receiving less than one year are confined in any county jail in this state. Prisoners receiving longer terms from this district are sent to the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan. Actions seeking an arrest of the court judgments next will be in order. Senator Kern and other attorneys for the defense have stated that appeals in behalf of the convicted labor union men will be taken to the United States circuit court of appeals. To bring this about the attorneys will file a petition for writ of error, accompanied by bills of exceptions to be signed by the court. This petition may be filed at any time within the present term, which expires next May. Upon the granting of the writs of error they may apply either to the district court or to the United States circuit court for supersedeas bonds. If bonds are granted and the prisoners are able to furnish them they may remain at liberty pending the appeal. Otherwise the men are to be imprisoned.

Because of their inability to procure bonds ranging from $5,000 to $10,000 four of the men now convicted were kept in jail during a great part of the trial.

"We have taken no steps to provide bonds," said Attorney Harding for the defense. "We can do nothing until we learn after the sentences are imposed how high the bonds will be. If the men are admitted to bond and we can furnish bond we will use every effort to keep them out of jail. Otherwise our hands are tied."

Originally 54 men were included in these charges here. Eight defendants after the trial began were discharged on the ground that no cases existed against them. John J. McNamara, secretary of the iron workers' union, the "paymaster of the dynamiting crew," and James B. McNamara, who blew up the Los Angeles Times building, were not tried because they were serving terms in San Quentin prison in California on their own pleas of guilt. James B. having received a life sentence and John J., 15 years.

John J. McCray, who formerly was a member of the iron workers' executive board, and who when last known, was living at (Wheeling, W. Va., never was found. Daniel Brophy, New York, had a broken leg when the trial began on October 1st, and his trial deferred.

Ortle McNamagal confessed dynamiter and government's chief witness and Edward Clark, Cincinnati, pleaded guilty at the opening of the trial. Thus the number was reduced to forty.

Oct. 1, 1911, Government authorities, exactly one year after the Los Angeles "Times" explosion, for first time, consider possibility of federal prosecution for illegal transportation of explosives.

Feb. 6, 1912, federal grand jury returns indictments against 54 labor union officials.

Feb. 14, most of the defendants scattered over the country arrested within a few hours by a telegraphic signal.

Oct. 1, trial begins exactly two years after Los Angeles explosion, fifty defendants present; three discharged by government; Ortle McNamagal pleads guilty, leaving forty-six for trial.

Oct. 3, jury secured, composed mostly of farmers; government opens its case.

Oct. 5, Herbert S. Hockin accused by district attorney with having been a spy within the ranks of the dynamiters, and with having given information to prosecution.

Oct. 7, Edward Clark, Cincinnati, pleads guilty of having blown up a bridge at Dayton, O., and accuses Hockin of having furnished the dynamite; 45 defendants remain to trial.

Nov. 9, McNamagal begins relating his confession on the witness stand; implicates iron workers' union officials as having pointed out jobs for him to blow up; names Hockin as starting him in the business.

Nov. 23, Hockin's bond increased, in default of which he is committed to jail, after more testimony that he was employed by detectives while an official of the union; court denounces Hockin "as not to be trusted by any one, day or night"; Miss Mary Field, a writer, denounced by the district attorney as an "anarchist," for criticisms published in union magazine; Oliver A. Tveitmore, San Francisco, a defendant, also denounced by district attorney for publishing "anarchistic" criticisms of the trial.

Dec. 2, Government concludes its case, after presenting 54 witnesses, whose testimony covers 25,000 pages; four more defendants discharged by the government, leaving 41 for trial; defense begins. Hockin resigns as secretary-treasurer of the iron workers' union.

Dec. 28, verdicts returned finding all defendants guilty except Buckley and Siefert.

Chief Prosecutor, United district attorney Charles W. Miller.

Chief counsel for the defense, United States Senator John W. Kern and William N. Harding.

Federal judge who conducted the trial, Albert B. Anderson.

Charges: Illegally transporting dynamite and nitroglycerin on passenger trains, or conspiracy to do the same.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—It was a scene blended with tragedy that confronted those who week after week sat through the historic "dynamite conspiracy" trials.

Now it was a baby crying from the rear of the court room, where the wives and children of the defendants sat; now it was the heavy voice of a man seated in the witness stand and defending himself against the charges of a nation wide conspiracy, in which officials of union labor deeply concerned. Witnesses from near and far came and went, but those whose fate rested with the jury remained there listening to the accusations and to the killing of 21 people in the Los Angeles Times explosion.

The court room itself seemed a fitting setting for that sombre story. Surrounded by great marble pillars, with the daylight shut out by heavy curtains, and the judge installed before an allegorical painting of justice, that court room day after day witnessed the story of violence, the discovery of buried fuses and buried internal machines, of midnight visits by mysterious men in alleys, empty houses, in lonely country roads or on the tops of buildings.

The vision of a dark spectre with a bomb under his arm became a familiar image in the minds of those who listened. Back of the railings, amid the spectators, sat the relatives of the defendants. Three rows deep across the room were the defendants. Among the score of attorneys sat perhaps the most picturesque defendant, massive in build, florid in complexion, always studiously occupied, now copiously filling his note book when the testimony was exciting; now, when the trial lagged burying his spectacled nose in a Latin version of Omar Khayyam. He was Olaf A. Tveitmore of San Francisco.

Hockin a Branded Man.

Another man toward whom the eyes of the spectators often strayed was Herbert S. Hockin. He sat apart between bailiffs during much of the trial, for he had been branded by the court as "a man who could not be trusted by any one." It was Hockin who was named as having promoted the dynamiting business; it was Hockin who was accused of holding out on the pay of the dynamiters. It was he who was said to have caused a quarrel in the ranks of the McNamaras and McNamagal, and it was he who finally was charged with "betraying for his own gain" those with whom he was once associated, and with whom he was affiliated in the iron workers' union.

Gray haired and old beyond his years sat Frank M. Ryan, president of the iron workers' union, by virtue of which office he was a leader in national labor circles, with a seat in the councils of the American Federation of Labor.

McNagal, the self confessed dynamiter, for weeks occupied the witness stand, relating, calmly, decisively and without any apparent concern for himself a narrative of violence seldom equalled.

And what were the antecedents of this trial?

Back in the summer of 1905 dynamite was found at New Haven, Conn., on a job on which non-union workmen were employed. Later the iron workers' union called a strike on several contractors and the strike became general. That was the beginning, according to the government, and it spread until McNamara organized a "dynamiting crew." Altogether 100 explosions occurred, those at Los Angeles being among the number.

Two striking coincidences attended the trial.

One was that on October 1, 1911, exactly one year after the Los Angeles "Times" building was blown up, with a loss of 21 lives, the federal authorities at Indianapolis first considered the possibility of prosecutions for illegal interstate shipment of dynamite and nitro-glycerin on passenger trains. Ortle E. McNamagal's confession, obtained after he and the McNamara brothers had been arrested, implicated others as having actually carried explosives in suitcases or as having entered into a conspiracy. This indicated, in District Attorney Charles W. Miller's opinion, the necessity for a grand jury investigation. Indianapolis was the headquarters of John J. McNamara, secretary of the iron workers' union, and the point at which, it was charged, the conspiracy was entered into and from which the explosives were carried.

arouse suspicion that they were the work of an organized band.

Detectives already had been working on the case when the killing of 21 people in Los Angeles by a bomb set off at 1 o'clock in the morning, showed that the desperation of the dynamiters had reached the murder stage.

Basis of Evidence Broad.

Much of the evidence that was precluded at Los Angeles by the pleas of guilt by the McNamara brothers came out here. Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson ruled that while the specific charges were illegal transportation all other evidence relative to explosions might be offered as showing a motive. The testimony was that the destruction of the "Times" building was not strictly a part of the campaign against non-union iron and steel work, but was done in an effort to unhinge various trades in Los Angeles. James B. McNamara, who set the bomb, was a printer. Witnesses stated that McNamara afterwards expressed little regret that 21 people were killed, and, in fact, expressed disappointment that he had not killed General Harrison Gray Otis, proprietor of the "Times," that the dynamiter was sent to the coast at the solicitation of Tveitmore, recognized union labor leader, and that Tveitmore furnished David Caplan and M. A. S. Schmidt, who were also indicted for murder, but who never were captured.

All the 100 explosions came in for scrutiny by the jury here, and the field of operations extended from Boston to Los Angeles.

"Who caused those explosions?" was the question before the jury.

Broadly the charges were that J. J. McNamara began them and thought them an effective means of fighting "open shop" contractors. "Make the damage as heavy as possible," McNamagal said always were his instructions. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property was said to have been destroyed. Finding the maintenance of a hired "dynamiting crew" cost money, McNamara is alleged to have appealed to the union for funds, and in this way, the government charged, others became implicated. For instance, the government set out that the union executive board decided at last to allow McNamara $1,000 a month, for which he would be required to give no accounting. Letters also were written which, the government asserted, showed certain business agents, recognizing the "dynamiting crew" as a regular institution, sent work as to what jobs should be blown up. All the indicted officials were declared by their letters to be "in and together in guilt."

Number of Defendants Unprecedented.

That was the case the government, at the opening of the trial, asserted it had to place before the jury. It was stated that the trial, in the number of defendants, in the fact that the defendants were allied with labor unions, in the nation-wide extent of the conspiracy, and in its ramifications, were unprecedented. McNamagal's confession, detailing 21 explosions which he said he personally caused, was scrutinized to determine in what minute particulars corroborative witnesses were ended.

The witnesses came from almost every city. Dozens of them were brought from the Pacific coast to remain on the stand only a few minutes. A curly-headed, dimple-cheeked girl, garbed in a pink dress, was called from North Randall, O., to point out in the court room Peter J. Smith and George (Nipper) Anderson, of Cleveland, as men she saw going up a lonely road with a box shortly before an explosion at North Randall. A mechanic came from Hawaii to tell of overhearing certain of the defendants discuss proposed explosions in Detroit. An engineer came from Panama to recount his experiences with Hockin, who drove lively wagons, check boys in railway stations, who cared for suit-cases filled with infernal machines, hotel clerks who "booked" the McNamaras and McNamagal for rooms, detectives, stenographers, contractors who suffered from explosions, and telephone operators, all related piecemeal their knowledge of the defendants' conversations or movements, which the government undertook to weave into a completed story. After the individual guilt of each, and the collective guilt of all the defendants.

One by one the defendants heard the charges repeated against them.

Variety of Charges Made.

Tveitmore heard his name mentioned often. He was accused as having furnished Caplan and Schmidt to help blow up the Times building. He was named as having sent word to McNamara the month after the explosion that "things were all right on the coast," and as having requested the dynamiters again be sent to Los Angeles, later acknowledging his other explosion there on Dec. 25, 1910, as "a Christmas present." McNamagal said he called at Tveitmore's office in San Francisco, but met only Eugene Clarence there. Anton Johansen was mentioned by witnesses as having helped Tveitmore (William J. Burns testified he told Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles that day after the explosion that "Tveitmore and Johansen were behind it." Testimony about Johansen was permitted on the ground that though not a defendant, "he had been shown to be a conspirator."

J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City, was charged with harboring the Los Angeles dynamiter for two weeks. A tailor in Salt Lake City said he altered clothes for the dynamiter and other witnesses said they saw Munsey, also known as "Jack Bright," and McNamara together.

Clancy was again mentioned as being in Boston when the Pacific coast explosion occurred, and as having west after telegraphing "Clear house," meaning, as the government charged, to destroy evidence. H. W. Pohlman of Seattle, mentioned as bringing McNamara and Clancy together in that city.

Hockin Prominent Witness.

Of all the defendants, Herbert S. Hockin was probably the most conspicuous in the testimony.

in went to a contractor in Pittsburg and betrayed the dynamiters. That was before the loss of life at Los Angeles. Later Hockin worked for Burns, while still remaining as an official of the union, and when the federal grand jury began its work in Indianapolis, Hockin took information to the government.

The testimony at the trial resulted in the increasing of Hockin's bonds, so that he was confined in jail. Hockin asserted to those for whom he was accused of acting as a witness that he took no part in dynamiting, but witnesses from Muncie, Ind., and at Cincinnati pointed him out as the man to whom they actually sold explosives.

Hockin again was the man most mentioned by McNamagal. "After he had induced me to blow up a job in Detroit in 1907," said McNamagal, "Hockin told me there was no use of my attempting to quit now, as they had the goods on me. I asked him who was going to pay me for my work. He said the executive board had set aside a limited fee of $125 for each job and expenses. I told him that was too little for a thing like that. He replied my family would be taken care of if anything happened. So I went to Bloomville, O., and got an order from Nat France to Bill Carey, who was the keeper of a magazine where dynamite was stored for use in a stone quarry and they let me have some without knowing what I was going to do with it. I used it to blow up a derelict at Clinton, Iowa, Feb. 16, 1908."

"Hockin two weeks later visited me again in Chicago and said he did not have enough money to pay expenses for the Clinton job, but for me to go to the hall of the local union. When I went there the secretary, H. Houlhan, gave me an envelope containing $165. Houlhan said: 'There is money in that.'"

In July of 1908, according to McNamagal, Hockin met me in Buffalo, and after pointing out a viaduct, said he wanted to get to Canada before the explosion took place about 11 o'clock that night. McNamagal set off the dynamite with a sixty-foot fuse. He said Hockin met him later in Chicago and paid him.

Then Hockin asked McNamagal to go to St. Louis, but he refused and went instead to Holyoke, Mass., where an explosion failed because the dynamite was buried in the ground too long. McNamagal said the only man who knew me as a dynamiter," said McNamagal. "Just before that date he arranged for me to go to Boston and see M. J. Young regarding the job on the Boston Opera house, which was blown up."

Later on instruction from Hockin, McNamagal said he went to Hoboken to confer with Frank C. Webb of New York about blowing up a viaduct. A dispute arose and McNamagal told Webb that Hockin was paying for the work and he purposed to follow instructions.

Only One Genuine "Keeley Cure"

There are many imitations and substitutes for the famous "Keeley Cure." Many of these claim to be "just the same" as the Keeley treatment.

All such claims are absolutely false. The genuine Keeley remedies can be had only in the Keeley Institute and its branches, of which there are one or more in almost every state.

We have imitators, but no rivals. No other method of treatment produces these perfect and lasting results.

The Keeley remedies can only be obtained at Keeley Institutes; there is only one of these in the State of Illinois and that is at Dwight.

The Liquor Habit Is a Nerve Disease and Can Be Cured

Don't ABUSE or UPBRAID the man who drinks to excess! His own conscience does that daily, hourly. He is a SICK MAN. He has the alcoholic nerve cell disease. The time when he could help HIMSELF is long past. But YOU can HELP him! WE CAN CURE HIM!

What Is the Liquor Disease?

It is a condition where the nerve cells have become trained to need alcohol. And unless they are fed with alcohol they rebel and refuse to control the muscles and brain cells.

The "craving" for drink is not the disease. It is simply the symptom of the disease, just as a cough is a symptom and not, in itself, a disease.

When the disease is cured the craving and appetite for drink disappear, just as a cough disappears when the cause of the cough is removed.

The Keeley Remedies Cure

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley discovered first the real nature of the liquor disease, and next a remedy that would cure it.

The Keeley remedies are simply nerve tonics that remove the artificial alcohol appetite of the nerve cells and restore them to their healthy, normal condition.

When this is done the man has no longer any need or desire for drink.

In the last 32 years 400,000 men have been cured of the liquor disease by the Keeley method.

The effect of the Keeley remedies is to absolutely destroy the craving and appetite for drink. The man who takes the treatment is no longer called on to fight an appetite. Because the desire and necessity for alcohol are completely gone.

We also cure Opium, Morphine and other drug addictions. The drug is withdrawn gradually and there is no shock, collapse, prostration or sickness. Full particulars in plain, sealed envelope on request.

We manufacture and sell Home Remedies which cure the Tobacco Habit and many forms of nervous troubles.

We have a Chicago office, Suite 906 Rector Building, 79 W. Monroe Street, where arrangements may be made.

dynamiters. These proposed plots were to blow up the locks of the Panama canal; to blow up various buildings in eastern cities where the offices of "open shop" contractors were located; to blow up many 120 road bridges and even to cause 100 explosions on the Pacific coast. "Hockin paid me $250 for the Boston and Hoboken jobs," said McNamagal. "Then it was arranged I should meet J. B. McNamara for the first time. Hockin had telegraphed me to meet him in Indianapolis. We went from there to Muncie, Ind., where we met J. B. Hockin, made all arrangements here about getting risks.

boxes and cans for the nitro-glycerin he was negotiating for. He had me buy a piano box and rent a house, fill barrels with sawdust and put them in the house for storing the explosive. Hookin paid me for the rent of the house and arranged with a well-shooter to get the nitro-glycerin, which we transferred to the house in Muncie.

A New Explosive Invention. "In February, 1910, in Chicago, I received a telegram from Hookin to come to Indianapolis. I did not go, but J. B. McNamara came to Chicago and told me Hookin had sent him to explain a new invention. J. B. explained about the alarm clock arrangement by which we in the future were to regulate the time for exploding bombs. A few days later Hookin wired me to come to Indianapolis, where he and I and J. J. McNamara fully went over the clock scheme. With it I went to Mt. Vernon, Ill., and pulled off a job on a power house, for which Hookin paid me $125."

It was in the summer of 1910 when explosions were frequent that McNamara said his relations with Hookin were broken off because he discovered Hookin had been keeping part of his pay. About that same time witnesses said Hookin began to give information about the dynamiters.

Edward Smythe, of Peoria, Ill., also was accused by McNamara as having personally pointed out jobs to be blown up. A hotel keeper related that after the explosion Smythe examined the hotel register, and later the page on which McNamara had registered was found to be torn out. McNamara said Smythe arranged to go to a theatre the night of the explosion and prove an alibi by keeping the seat checks.

President Ryan of the iron workers' union, and all the other defendants were charged with being principals to the conspiracy through the writing of letters. Ryan's defense was that the McNamaras and those who confessed alone knew that a "dynamiting campaign" was being carried on, and that the executive board members did not know what Secretary McNamara did with the $1,000 monthly appropriated for his use without his being required to give an accounting.

Beyond doubt the testimony which attracted keenest interest was that which related to the blowing up of the Los Angeles "Times" building. That a man could deliberately buy 5,000 pounds of high explosive with the purpose only of destroying property gave unusual zest to that part of the story.

McNamara's Activity Renewed. Unrestricted by the court, the government went into every available detail of James B. McNamara's activity on the Pacific coast which was considered essential to the charges here. The dynamiter's arrival in San Francisco, after he left his brother's office in Indianapolis in July, 1910, his accompanying McNamara as far as Chicago, his sending back to McNamara a postcard giving him greetings from the far west, and saying, "The best of friends must part," the dynamiter's wandering about San Francisco, his meeting with Clancy in Seattle, his "taking lessons" from an electrical expert in Seattle in how to set off a bomb by a spark instead of by a fuse, his causing an explosion in Seattle, and his return to San Francisco preparatory to going to Los Angeles, were all traced.

Detective Burns' Statement. St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—William J. Burns, the detective who was responsible for the arrest of many of the defendants in the dynamite conspiracy case, who were found guilty at Indianapolis today this afternoon said the verdict would have a "splendid effect as demonstrating that no man can be above the law."

"More important than all the other convictions is that of Olaf A. Tveitmo," continued Burns. "I have reason to believe that it was Tveitmo who suggested blowing up the Los Angeles Times, that it was he who had the explosive taken west and that it was he who induced John J. McNamara to send his brother west to do the job. Tveitmo is in a class by himself. He does not represent organized labor, but his own peculiar ideas and clan. It would be an insult to organized labor to speak of him as one of its representatives."

CHARLES SEYMOUR AWARDED CONTRACT FOR MORTON SCHOOL

Will Commence Rebuilding Structure Monday Morning—School Will Be Held in R. L. Perkins' Home.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Morton school held in this city Saturday morning Charles Seymour of this city was awarded the contract for erecting the new school building, the amount of his bid being $13,378.

Work will be commenced on the new structure Monday morning, on the site where the old building was burned. The new building will be a one story frame structure the same size as the old one. The directors have made arrangements to continue school in the residence of R. L. Perkins, until work on the new building is completed.

ACCIDENTS AND OTHERWISE

Crushed by Cars.—While Merrill Martin, aged 14 of Raymond, Ill., was waiting in the Big Four railroad yards at Venice for a freight train upon which he intended to beat his way home, he was run over and both arms badly crushed. His chest was also crushed and the left lung punctured.

Kewanee Man Falls Dead.—Charles Cline, 64 years old, of Kewanee, apparently in good health, fell dead as he started to get out of bed for breakfast.

Boy Slain by Brother.—Dillard DeLoe Armstrong, the two-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Armstrong, of Christopher, Ill., was shot and killed today by his five-year-old brother, Lester, who playfully pointed at the younger child a revolver he found in a bureau drawer of a room in which they were playing.

Took Acid.—Despondent following divorce secured by his wife, Albert Stillman of Bloomington swallowed carbolic acid in a hotel at El Paso, dying soon afterward.

Colored Man Bleached White.—A story comes from Rockford that a colored man of Freeport had an altercation with a citizen of the place and the crowd threatened to lynch the African who took to his heels and some hours later a message came from Rockford saying the man had arrived there and was bleached white.

Tuscola Presents Ground Under Train.—A large bunch of Christmas presents failed to reach the intended recipients in Tuscola and surrounding country, through an accident that was rather unusual. Fast mail train No. 24, which passed through Tuscola at 3:27 a. m. Monday threw a pouch of mail on the platform of the Frisco depot at that time, but in some manner it failed to clear the wheels of the car and it was dragged under and ground to pieces, the boxes and parcels being demolished to a considerable extent.

Newspaper Man Drowned.—Leonard Bryan of Morrison, formerly of Dixon, was found in Rock river below the government dam. The discovery was made by workmen along the government lock.

CHILDREN ENJOYED TREE.—Children who attend the industrial school enjoyed a Christmas entertainment given for them Saturday afternoon. A brilliantly lighted tree delighted them and of course there were presents for all. A program of songs and recitations was given and the whole afternoon was one of particular pleasure.

JOE M'GOWN MEETS DEATH AT MOBILE ALABAMA

No Particulars Received Other Than the Statement That He Had Been Killed—Young Man's Father Will Start South Today.

Chief of Police Davis received a telegram Saturday informing him of the death of Joe H. McGowan of this city at Mobile, Ala. The telegram came from Roche and Burke undertakers and no facts were given save that McGowan had been killed in Mobile.

The deceased was twenty-three years of age and was a painter. He had made Jacksonville his home most of his life but left here a few months ago for the south. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGowan of 933 South Clay avenue and by two sisters, Mrs. Raffery, living in New York city and Miss Grace McGowan of this city. The father will leave today for Mobile to accompany the remains to Jacksonville.

HELD FAMILY REUNION.

A short time since there was a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Peters at Merritt. Among the guests there were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Southwell and daughter Louise, all of Chapin; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters and son John, Albert and William Peters. A splendid dinner was served and the guests pronounced it surpassed by none and proved their appreciation by the way they put away the good things. The entire day was spent quite enjoyably.

MUSICAL SERVICE

AT BROOKLYN. At Brooklyn church this evening at 7:30 o'clock a special musical service will be held. The program will be made up of several vocal and instrumental numbers and Rev. Hy S. Alkire will deliver a short sermon.

Establish a Ranch on Public Land

High Price of Cattle Insures This to Be a Good Business for Many Years.

It is not generally known, but it is a fact that one person can now take up 640 acres of Government land in Wyoming, as follows:

First, file a Desert land entry on 160 acres where you can catch the drainage from 1,000 acres, in a series of small storage reservoirs sufficient to irrigate as much as 81 acres of the entry and at least five acres on any 40 of the 160. For this 160 you pay the Government 25 cents an acre at the time of filing and $1 an acre when the proof is made.

Second, file on 320 acres as a homestead. There is no charge for the land, but entryman must reside upon the homestead seven months each year for three years, and raise a crop on 20 acres the second year and have 40 acres in crop the third year.

Third, buy 160 acres from the Government at $1.25 per acre. This 160 must join the homestead.

There are hundreds of such locations now open to entry. If you want one of these ranches, write me today and I'll be glad to help you get it. My services are free.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

N. Y. STOCKS
IN NO DEMAND

BEARS ACTIVE ON COMPARATIVE
MODERATE OFFERINGS.

Most of the Prominent Stocks Were Depressed a Point or More With a Partial Recovery Before the Close.

(By Associated Press.)
New York, Dec. 28.—After a week of colorless trading and stagnant markets, stocks moved in a definite way today and quotations were depressed in all quarters of the list. Trading became more active following a featureless opening with the impetus coming from the bear factions. There was no demand for stocks and the bears were able to make headway on comparative moderate offerings. Most of the prominent stocks were depressed a point or more with a partial recovery before the close. The weakness of steel was a depressing influence and selling of Canadian Pacific from abroad affected the railroad list.
Apparently there was no well grounded reason for the weakened condition of the market which was more active than for several days and the declines seemed to be little more responsible.

There was, however, a decrease in excess cash reserves of $1,740,000.
Some indications of the more conservative feeling in trade was contained in the weekly reviews. In general, however, the trade situation remains satisfactory in volume.

HIS BUSINESS INCREASES AS THE YEARS GO BY
W. E. Boston's Meat and Grocery Service is the Kind That Gives a Basis to Success.
When a merchant has a business which increases with each passing year has reasons for believing that he is conducting in a general way along the right lines and that the public appreciates the policy of his store. Such an establishment is that of W. E. Boston at the corner of Hardin and East College avenues. Years ago Mr. Boston started a store there and each twelve months since has shown an advance in the bulk of business done. His patronage is by no means limited to that particular part of the city but people residing in all the city wards telephone orders to Mr. Boston and he has besides a very extensive line of patronage from the country. Customers from the country are desirable not only for the business they bring but also because of the fact that from them the storekeeper is able to get butter, eggs and other produce from the farms. The long experience Mr. Boston has had in business has made him a good judge in buying and for that reason his extensive stock is well selected and standard brands of goods are carried. The meat department is an important feature of the establishment and people have learned that they can secure there cuts of beef which suit their individual tastes and the prices are not such as to contribute to the high cost of living. Several extensions and enlargements have been made at the Boston store during passing years and the indications are that the business will continue to grow. If you have not already tried the Boston grocery and meat service why telephone an order tomorrow to No. 100 over the Bell or Illinois phone. (Adv.)

I suffered for about two years with gall stones. At times the pain was so intense that I had to have morphine. Kept getting worse and through the advice of my father I went to consult Dr. Carson, who said he thought there would be no trouble in dissolving them, which I am thankful to say he has accomplished, as I have been picking corn and working hard for the last two months, and have absolutely no pain.

STATE TEACHERS HELD VERY HELPFUL SESSIONS
Prof. C. W. Taylor of This City Among Delegates at Peoria Convention—Bible Reading Questions up Again—Vocational Training an Important Theme.
Prof. C. W. Taylor of the faculty of the State School for the Deaf returned Saturday from Peoria where he went to attend the annual convention of the Illinois State Teachers' association. He devoted the greater part of his time to the principals and high school sections and found them of great interest. Among addresses made were those by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, State Superintendent Blair, Prof. Bagley of the University of Illinois, President Shoop of the Chicago schools, Dr. Charles Prosser of New York city, Dr. Philander Claxton of the U. S. department of education and other eminent educators. One question which aroused a great deal of discussion and interest was the resolution by which the association went on record as favoring having the supreme court review its decision rendered about two years ago whereby it was declared unconstitutional to have the Bible read in the public schools. A heavy majority was in favor of the resolution.
In nearly all sessions of the convention there was discussion of the matter of vocational training and this plan of educational work, intended to apply to children above the age of fourteen was favored by a majority of the delegates. The whole convention has been described as one of the best the association has ever held.

FAMILY REUNION.
A family reunion was held Christmas day at the home of J. H. Henderson, northeast of the city, four generations being present. There was about thirty guests present, an elegant Christmas dinner was served, and a large Christmas tree was another feature of the day that will not be soon forgotten. Many presents were received during the day. The four generations are as follows: Wm. Henderson, his son, J. H. Henderson, grand-daughter, Mrs. Cora Ornellos, grand son, William Ornellos. There were nine grand children present, the following were there from out of the city: Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Escorse, of Beardstown, and William Henderson, of Ashland.
A photograph was taken and the guests returned to their homes.

WILLIAM EPLER GIVES HISTORY
TELLS OF EARLY SCHOOL OF CASS COUNTY.
The Late D. W. Fairbank of This City and H. S. Van Eaton, a Graduate of Illinois College in 1848, Among Its Teachers.
William Epler has written some interesting history of Zion school of Cass county, one of the earliest rural institutions of learning of that county. It was written at the request of Miss Floy Crawford, a present teacher of the school and the letter was published as follows in the Virginia Enquirer:
Lake Charles, La.
Miss Crawford: Your letter received and contents noted. I presume I know as much about the early Zion school as any one living. What I know is entirely from memory and I have forgotten so much.
In May, 1845, an explosion swept away the old Walnut Grove school house. The school house was located near Little Indian creek, near the S. E. cor. of the S. W. 1/4 of Sec. 25, T. 17, N. R. 10, W. on land long since owned by the heirs of A. J. Gilpin. The Walnut Grove school house was built in the early 30's, possibly in the 20's and up to the time of its destruction, many good schools were taught in it, all of course, subscription schools and I may add, were numerously attended, not only by small children, but by young men and women.
The above is all correct history, but from this on I must depend entirely on memory. During the summer and fall of 1846, possibly '45, a brick house was erected, church and school house combined, large folding doors cut the school room from the church, so that during special occasions, the two rooms could be opened together. The building stood on the site of the present Zion school, extending 30 or 40 feet farther east, as it was a longer building.
The school terms in those days were summer schools and winter schools. The summer school extended from middle of July to middle of October. Winter school extends from Dec. 1, to March 1. Often I may say generally, a three months spring school in charge of a lady, succeeded the winter term to do. Only small children attended this spring school. There were good practical reasons for so dividing the schools. The spring school was specially for small children, the summer and fall school was generally attended by small children and a few grown ups. The winter school was especially intended for young men and women who were supposed to be at work on the farm, spinning and weaving or other work. In those days there was something for every one to do.
About the first school taught at Zion was in charge of Rev. Mr. Chester, a Presbyterian clergyman, a winter school. The second winter school was taught by David Blair, as I remember; I am certain the summer and fall school of 1847 was taught by H. S. Van Eaton. I think the winter school of '47 and '48 was in charge of a Mr. Kenyon; there was no school then during the winter of '48 and '49. The school then was at the Bergen academy in old Princeton, taught by D. W. Fairbank, late of Jacksonville, Ill.
On further reflection, Mr. Kenyon must have taught two years later than '47 and '48. About this time Mr. Dickerman and Mr. Fay each conducted a fall term.
This brings us down to the time that the Zion school was in charge of Allen J. Hill for a period of two or three years.
I well remember Mr. Hill was teaching in August, 1853, as I was one of his pupils and left his school to enter Illinois college. After this date I have no recollection or knowledge of the Zion school, until 1869, when I again took up my residence in the neighborhood, but was absent from the state from 1856 to 1869.
I do not remember that a lady ever taught the school up to 1853.
In 1868 the school was taught by the late R. W. Mills; Rev. Mr. Griffin taught next after Mr. Mills. The late Mr. James B. Black taught the school immediately before or immediately after the war. After I rather think. After Mr. Mills Keeling Berry was next, I think; after Mr. Berry, Miss Mary and Mr. Tobe Dale. Then followed Miss Addie Hitchcock, now Mrs. Morrison, Rineside, Cal.; Mr. J. F. Downing, Miss Mathis, now Mrs. George Kelly, Ogden, Utah; Miss Kate Downing, now Mrs. C. W. Crews, Pueblo, Colo. and others whose names I cannot recall, and presume since the present school law has been in force and districts organized complete records are extant.
While not a part of the early history of Zion school, I shall briefly mention some of the characteristics of some of the early teachers and possibly a few items in their personal history.
I wish I could include some of the teachers who taught in "Old Walnut Grove," but that would not be a part of the early history of Zion. Although Zion is the hereditary descendant of the "Old Walnut Grove School," besides, it would be going back of any personal knowledge which I may have.
Rev. Mr. Chester was a Presbyterian clergyman from Springfield, Ill., a highly educated gentleman, a good teacher, but I always thought out of place among a lot of strenuous rustics as we must have been. I think he was a graduate of Princeton, N. J. That winter he filled the pulpit in the old brick church in Old Princeton; he would read from his manuscript a whole hour in a lifeless monotone, his sermon probably divided into fifty parts, as was the custom in those days among learned clergymen. I do not doubt now that they were learned discourses but you could not make any of us boys believe that they were interesting.
David Blair was a tall, fine looking man, an excellent scholar and a

IS WELL DONE
For a number of years past Fred McDougall has conducted a blacksmith and wagon shop located at the corner of West College and South Sandy street. It is one of the best known stands in Jacksonville for there E. Keemer conducting business for scores of years. Mr. McDougall is a comparatively young man but he has nevertheless had long training and experience in his work which he began as a boy and he is today a thoroughly competent workman. He understands every department of his business thoroughly and every piece of work entrusted to his care receives his personal attention even when the work is done by employees. Horsehoofing, general blacksmithing and wood work all are given prompt and correct attention and Mr. McDougall's charges will always be found as reasonable as the work can possibly be done. (Adv.)

CLUB MEETING HELD.
The Social Domestic Science club met Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Will Hamilton on Tendick street with a fair attendance. After the regular routing of business, delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Hamilton was assisted by Mrs. Lena Mitchell and Mrs. Hannah Meriwether. The club adjourned to meet the third Friday in January with Mrs. John Halthman on Prairie street.

of whom I need say nothing; perhaps the best scholar that ever taught in Cass county; entirely self taught in mathematics; could have filled any chair and had but few equals as a linguist.
Allow me to add, these old teachers prior to 1853 were all good and as scholars excellent.
I have written this in a reminiscent mood; have not time to copy or re-write; it is not all history by a good deal; at least such as you are required to furnish. Pick out what best answers your purpose, throwing the rest away.
—I think the idea of writing a history of the schools an excellent one. I have often thought it was a pity the history of the "Old Walnut Grove school" has not been written before those who remembered had passed away. They are gone and no records left. I wish a more competent historian than myself could have been found to write the early history of Zion school, but the competent historians have passed away.
Very sincerely yours,
William Epler.

LAST CHANCE TO BE A GOOD FELLOW IN 1912.
On Tuesday, the last day of the year, Hillerby will share the profits on all his sales with the Free Kindergarten. The members of the board of directors will be present, in relays during the day, to show courtesies to all customers. This will be a great day for bargains as the odds and ends of the year will be offered at prices greatly to the advantage of the purchaser. Besides it will help meet the needs of the Kindergarten, which gives Christmas to sixty little tots nine months in the year.
Close the year in charity, for it may cover a multitude of your sins.

We Announce For This Week A
Splendid Sale of

FURS

Furs are something we positively will not carry over from one season to another. As yet the mercury has not dropped low enough to make a very great demand for furs—so we have decided to drop the prices on our furs down past the zero mark and see if we cannot create a demand. We will not quote prices here. They would be meaningless when apart from the furs. But come to the store—make your choice and we will name you the lowest price you were ever made on a high quality fur.

Sidestepping Coffee Troubles

Vacuum Process Coffee represents the biggest advance in pure food progress that the world has seen for a hundred years. Harmless coffee has fittingly come in the wake of wireless messages and horseless carriages.

The Vacuum Process takes from the coffee all of its injurious qualities, those things which disturb the nerves, and yet the deliciousness of the coffee is in no way disturbed. Ask us about Vacuum Process Coffee.

Our room has been leased to some kind of a 5 and 10c store, possession to be given by August 1st. Necessarily or previously to that time in case a suitable location can be secured. Sale starts Thursday, January 2, 1913.

All goods marked in plain figures and at prices to dispose of each and every item.

THE TEMPERATURES.

The temperatures for Saturday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexander, were, maximum 57 and minimum 19.

BEAUTIFUL TROPHY CUP.

Mrs. Arthur Seymour of Murrayville, who won the general sweepstakes at the poultry show held in Greene county Dec. 16-21, brought her cup to Jacksonville Saturday to have her name engraved upon it. The cup is almost a foot and a half in height and handsome in appearance. Upon it is engraved the following: "Chicago Inter-Ocean Cup, Green County Poultry Show." White Wyandotte chickens were the birds with which Mrs. Seymour won her honors. She received first and fourth on cockerels; second on hens; first, second, third and fourth on pullets, first, second, third and fourth on cockerels; first, second and fourth on pen. The judge of the poultry was Mr. McClave.

WESTMINSTER BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The ladies of Westminster church gave their birthday party for November and December Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Taylor on Grove street. The invitation was not limited to members of the Aid society, but instead the men and women of the church were expected to be present and the response to the invitation was general. A very excellent musical program contributed largely to the pleasure of the evening. The program included the following numbers:

Violin solo, "Deutchertang"—Miss Clara Moore.
Vocal solo, "I Hear You Calling Me" (Marshall)—Miss Catherine Barr.
Vocal solo, "Allan Water"—Miss Anstee Moore.
